Wires, Limbs Down

Marion, Area Hit By Freezing Rain

In another winter episode last night, a freezing rain coated trees, shrubs and wires and driving conditions were hazardous in a steady downpour of rain.

Tree limbs, heavily coated with ice were snapped off and others were blown down by the wind, and electric and telephone wires were sagging with some broken with the weight of the ice.

TELEPHONE COMPANY officials reported that about 200 phones were put out of service by the storm. Those were mostly in the rural areas and scattered. Two of the worst breaks were caused by falling trees on Routes 98 and 4. Thirteen repair crews are at work on the damage and service is expected to be renewed tonight.

Ohio Edison Co. manager, Harold J. Grigsby, said several poles had been broken and a transformer lost during the night, but repairs had been made by morning. He said "it was fortunate that no high winds accompanied the ice" and that the power failures were at night.

Many motorists, whose cars stood out all night, had to thaw out locks and scrape ice from windshields this morning before they could go on their way to work.

County roads and state highways were in pretty good condition this morning with only small icy spots reported. The county engineer, Reed Ours, reported crews were out with two cinder trucks this morning checking railroad crossings and steep approaches for icy places. Other crews were gathering up limbs broken off by the ice.

Crews from the state highway department were out during the night with salt trucks checking for icy spots. No trees were reported across roads.

Only one county school, New Bloomington, was known definitely to have closed today. Three others, where telephone lines were out could not be contacted. They were Claridon, Caledonia and Martel. In the district, the Marseilles School was reported closed.

MORE THAN half an inch of rain fell in Marion County throughout the day Monday, totaling .67 of an inch. A great portion of this fell about 9 o'clock last night when the ice began to form.

For the three-day weekend period, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, a total of 1.35 inches of rain fell in Marion.

High temperature reading yesterday was 53, dropping to a low of 24 during the night. About 9:30 this morning, the mercury

Power To Cut Tariff Asked By President

Ike Lays Down Bold Trade Proposals in Message to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Eisenhower asked Congress today for broader power to cut tariffs as the heart of a "bold" program he said would bolster the security and economic growth of America and her allies.

In a special message dealing with the politically explosive issue of import duties and laying down the foreign economic policy of his administration, Eisenhower also

1. Called for cutting down aid to other countries and an end to outright grants of economic aid as soon as possible.

2. Gave assurances that increased trade in peaceful goods between the West and Iron Curtain countries "should not cause us undue concern."

3. Asked that Congress ease up on "buy American" laws which give preference to domestic firms over foreign competitors on some government or government - financed purchases.

May Be Shelved

Important sections of the program may be heading into legislative quicksand.

For the 5,000-word message goes pretty much down the line of recommendations of a special commission on foreign economic policy—a commission whose report was so loaded with dissents as to raise grave doubts as to how far its proposals would get in Congress.

Those same doubts still apply now that Eisenhower has accepted the suggestions in general, bundled them together into a message and asked Congress to do something about them. Many members of the President's own party in the Senate and House adhere to the historic GOP position that tariffs should be kept relatively high to protect domestic industry against cheap imports.

The commission, headed by Clarence Randall of Chicago, president of Inland Steel Co., turned in its report Jan. 23.

Asks 3-Year Extension

The core of the report and the Eisenhower message is a recommendation for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires June 12, and for expanded authority for the president to negotiate tariff adjustments with other countries on a give-and-take basis.

Significant objections came from members of Congress who will have a vital role in deciding the fate of tariff legislation.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa), a high-ranking member of the committee, and Chairman Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee.

Eisenhower said his is a "minimum program" of four major, interlocked parts.

Foreign aid—"which we wish to curtail."

Investments abroad—"which we wish to encourage."

Free exchange of one currency for another—"which we wish to facilitate."

Foreign trade—"which we wish to expand."

The President said he considers

Says Support Of Merchants Encouraging

Springfielder To Map Plans at Meeting With Businessmen Thursday

Likelihood that Springfield City Lines, Inc., will seek a 90-day trial franchise to start a new bus company in Marion "soon" was indicated today.

Chester E. Baker, president of the company, today scheduled a meeting with the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

To Arrange Details

Purpose of this meeting will be to discuss details and make final arrangements on a plan of Marion businessmen to aid the start of the new company.

If Baker is satisfied with the progress of the plan he "will be willing to meet with the City Council to discuss the possibility of a 90-day franchise," as soon as possible.

In a long-distance telephone call to Mayor Harold F. Robinson this morning, Baker said he was "very pleased" with reports he had received of the plans of the businessmen to share an anticipated $100-a-day loss of the new company.

Plan Meeting With Council

He indicated that on completion of the discussion with the businessmen Thursday morning, he will make arrangements with Mayor Robinson for a meeting with Council to be attended by company directors to discuss the franchise.

Providing Council grants the company the right to start the new bus company, Baker said he would do his best to start the bus service within a week or 10 days.

The plan is for the group of merchants to purchase a total of $50 worth of bus tokens a day to share the anticipated loss of the company for a period of not longer than 90 days. Anytime within that time that the company

Senate Speeds Programs for Economy Aids

Social Security, Tax Bills Listed for Quick Action During Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders moved with President Eisenhower's apparent backing today to push into the foreground of the congressional program measures aimed at bolstering the nation's economy.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) spoke out at a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee at which he said he will urge early action on major economic proposals made by Eisenhower.

Key Proposals

Ferguson, who heads the policy group, listed these in an interview as including the House-approved tax revision bill and measures for housing authorization, social security expansion, hospital construction, highway building, rehabilitation of the handicapped and revision of public assistance and child welfare.

"We plan to give economic measures priority as much as possible in our drive to get the President's program enacted," the Michigan senator said. "Of course, as other measures of general nature come along, they will be sandwiched in."

Okayed by Ike

In the latter category, he said emphasis will be laid on passage of a farm bill, revision of the Taft-Hartley Act, approval of a foreign trade measure and action on the regular government money bills.

Eisenhower prepared for delivery to Congress today a message spelling out his foreign economic recommendations.

Although Ferguson would not comment, it was learned elsewhere

Second H-Blast Set Off Friday, AEC Reports

Explosion Announced As Reaction Builds From March 1 Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has triggered its second hydrogen blast in less than a month—even as waves of reaction from the epic March 1 explosion still were rolling through Congress and foreign capitals.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) disclosed the latest test detonation in a bare announcement last night. It said "the second test of the present thermonuclear series was successfully carried out on Friday, March 26."

AEC gave no hint of the intensity of this latest blast, touched off in super-secrecy at the government's testing ground in the mid-Pacific Marshall Islands.

President Eisenhower arranged to get a personal fill-in on the test series today from AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, just back from the Pacific proving grounds.

Bit by bit, the awesome power of the March 1 blast has been unveiled to the world.

From all indications, that explosion—which involved an actual, usable hydrogen weapon—exceeded scientific expectations. It is reported to have packed a wallop

Next One To Be Bigger Yet, Congressman Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Feighan (D-Ohio) said in a house speech yesterday an H-bomb "two and perhaps three times more powerful than that of March 1 will be detonated within a month."

He said he will introduce a bill to make available more atomic energy information to the people and to provide more cooperation on the subject with our allies

Ike Expected To Act Swiftly On Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was likely to send President Eisenhower late today a compromise bill to cut more than 20 excise taxes an estimated 999 million dollars a year, effective Thursday.

Congressional leaders confidently predicted the President would promptly sign the measure, hammered into final form by a Senate-House conference committee late yesterday.

While Eisenhower opposed the cuts, he could not veto the bill without risking the loss of greater excise revenue also provided in it.

Boost for Business

Congressional GOP leaders foresaw a shot in the arm for the national economy, currently undergoing a dip, from tax cuts on stoves, refrigerators and other household appliances, movie and other admissions, furs, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, sporting goods, passenger fares, telephone bills, telegraph charges, mechanical pens and pencils, cameras and film, lighters and electric light bulbs.

Economists expect consumer buying to be stimulated when price cuts show up on many of these items in stores Thursday, accompanying the tax reductions, or shortly thereafter. One fairly general exception to the probable lowered prices may be movie tickets.

Ike Favors Extension

The bill would also extend for one year, to April 1, 1955, present excise rates on cigarettes, automobiles, gasoline, trucks, liquor, beer and wine. Under the old law these taxes would have dropped by $1,077,000,000 a year starting Thursday.

Eisenhower had urged extending these rates and had counted this revenue in estimating a federal deficit of nearly three billion dollars for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He had opposed the sweeping

Butter Down Already

Local Milk Prices Will Drop 2 Cents

Milk prices will drop two cents a quart and butter will be seven cents a pound cheaper in Marion by Thursday.

The price reductions are a result of reduction in federal dairy supports effective Thursday. Price supports pegged at 90 per cent parity will go to 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is the balance between the prices received by the farmer for his products and prices he has to pay.

Butter Already Down

Butter prices in two Marion companies already have dropped, and the rest will drop by Thursday. George Krohe of the Isaly Dairy Co. said Isaly butter was reduced seven cents a pound last Friday while D. E. Montgomery of Ideal Dairy Co. said their butter was reduced seven cents a pound Monday.

Borden's will drop its butter the same amount Thursday. Marion branch manager A. M. Burch said. Mrs. Eleanor Parish, owner of Parish Dairy Co., said Parish prices hadn't been determined yet but would follow the local trend.

Isaly, Borden's and Ideal report milk reductions will go into effect Thursday. Milk prices at the three plants will be the same, 19 cents for a quart of regular and 20 cents a quart for homogenized. Butter will range around 70 cents a pound.

Down 6 Cents in Columbus

Butter prices in other Ohio areas have already fallen, the Associated Press reports.

Columbus wholesalers yesterday scaled butter prices 6 cents a pound, and retailers immediately announced price cuts of 5 to 8 cents. One pound of butter now can be bought in Columbus for 63 cents.

In Cincinnati one supermarket reduced butter 14 cents, with a bottom price of 59 cents per pound. At Zanesville butter dropped 7 cents.

The price of milk will go down today or tomorrow in several cities. Dairies at Hamilton and Cincinnati scheduled 2-cent-per-quart reductions. One Cleveland dairy planned a 2-cent cut, bringing milk to 19 cents a quart, and other dairies there were expected to follow suit.

One-Cent Cuts

Major dairies at Columbus and Dayton planned 1-cent cuts. The price of home-delivered milk will be 20 cents per quart and 36 cents per half-gallon at Columbus tomorrow.

The cuts applied to regular milk. Prices on homogenized and vitamized milks were expected to follow suit.

A Borden dairy official in Columbus said the cuts give the customer the benefit of lower producer prices "although the amount of the farm price decline will not be known until May 10."

Ohio State University dairy marketing specialists said the retailers were just about right in figuring price reductions. Robert Pelley and Elmer Baumer said the lowering of dairy price supports to 75 per cent of parity will reduce farm milk prices 40 to 60 cents per hundred pounds.

Benefits to consumers would amount to about 1-cent per quart of milk and 8 cents per pound of butter.

Basing their estimates on pricing changes in 8 principal Ohio milk markets, the specialists said such time farm prices drop 35-40 cents per hundred pounds for milk, bottled milk comes down a cent a quart.

Consumers also should get a break from seasonal price shifts which generally bring milk down one cent a quart in the spring. This spring the supply is heavy enough to drop prices more than usual, said Pelley and Baumer.

Democrats Try To Save Ike's Housing Plans

Two GOP Committees Place Block in Path Of Building Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats found themselves today in the odd position of trying to rescue President Eisenhower's public housing program, virtually scuttled by two committees dominated by members of Eisenhower's own party.

The battle was to be joined when the House considered for amendments a $5,566,118,763 appropriation bill to finance for the coming fiscal year the Public Housing Administration, the Atomic Energy Commission and more than a dozen other agencies.

Overshadowing the money allotments in the bill is a housing provision written in by the House Appropriations Committee and almost certain to be knocked out on a technicality.

This provision would limit to 20,000 the number of low-rent public housing units to be started in the year beginning July 1, with 15,000 more the following year. This program then would end. The 35,000 units were allowed only because the government already has contracted for them.

Thus, the Appropriations Com-

2 Men Confess Complicity in Theft at LaRue

Marionite Is Charged With Stealing, Another With Receiving Goods

Jack Hudkins, 21, of 769 N. State St., and Charles Raymond Stewart, 24, of 635 W. Columbia St., were bound over to the grand jury after pleading guilty in Municipal Court this morning to charges of breaking and entering, and receiving stolen property.

The Marion County sheriff's office filed the breaking and entering charges against Hudkins after he admitted taking clothing and some money from the E. H. Lingo Co. dry-goods store in LaRue last Wednesday morning.

Charges Filed Today

Stewart was charged with receiving stolen property from Hudkins. The charges were filed this morning. The pair admitted during questioning Monday night at the police department their implication in the LaRue robbery, Sheriff Glenn Obenour said.

The sheriff reported Hudkins and Stewart were picked up by Marion policemen Friday night on a traffic violation and were held for questioning when police became suspicious of their actions.

$23 in Cash Taken

Sheriff Obenour said Hudkins told officials he broke out the glass door of the store with a hammer and cut himself on the head in entering through the door. He took a jacket, four pairs of shoes, several pairs of trousers, three shirts and a small amount of money, he said.

A passerby detected the break-in Wednesday morning and told Don Lingo, proprietor of the store, who notified the sheriff's office. Lingo estimated that the amount of money taken was about $23.

7 Plead Guilty To Violation of Gambling Laws

Seven Marion men were fined in Municipal Court today on pleading guilty to charges of violation of state gambling laws.

Max C. Diamond, 40, manager of the Snyder Hotel, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of being the keeper of a gambling place.

Fined $25 and costs on charges of playing cards for money were William T. McGraw, 26, of 328 Chestnut St.; John H. Patterson, 28, of 416 Summit St.; Carl E. Uline, 24, of 582 E. Mark St.; Frank B. Summerson, 35, of 317 Marion Ave.; Paul R. Lyons, 43, of 161 Garden St.; and Everett M. McCombs, 26, of 484½ Mound St.

The seven men were arrested in a police raid early Saturday morning. All entered not guilty pleas on arraignment Saturday but changed their pleas today.

Finds 'Fishing' Good

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police said today a thief—using a blue gill hook—fished about $400 from a safe at the Taystee Bakery Co.

Detective Capt. Boyd F. Burk said the hook was lowered through a deposit slot and two bags of money hauled out.

They found the hook inside.

'United Action' Urged

Dulles Asks Free Nations For Firm Stand in Asia

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles—speaking with the advance approval of President Eisenhower — last night urged "united action" by the free nations to prevent Communist domination of Indochina and all Southeast Asia.

Communist domination in that area of the world "would be a grave threat to the whole free community," Dulles said in a major foreign policy declaration.

Proposes United Action

"The United States feels that that possibility should not be passively accepted, but should be met by united action," he said.

"This might have serious risks. But these risks are far less than would face us a few years from now, if we dare not be resolute today.

"Sometimes it is necessary to take risks to win peace, as in war it is necessary to take risk to win victory. The chances for peace are usually bettered by letting a potential aggressor know in advance where his aggression could lead him."

Dulles' declaration of the Communist threat in the Far East was delivered in an address before the Overseas Press Club at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Cleared with Ike

It was learned in Washington that his call for "united action" had been specifically cleared with Eisenhower at a weekend White House conference.

Dulles made clear that he meant action by the United States and its allies in contrast to previous speeches in which he spoke of possible United States retaliation.

He did not spell out specific

Dairy Support At 80 Per Cent Of Parity Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new government price support system for dairy products—apparently aimed at softening the reduction ordered by Secretary of Agriculture Benson—was unveiled today by Senators Aiken (R-Vt) and Anderson (D-NM).

Aiken is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Anderson is a former secretary of agriculture. In an interview, Aiken said they had not cleared their proposals with Benson or the administration, but would introduce them today in the senate.

Could Quiet Critics

Aiken conceded that the proposals if adopted should counter much of the criticism that has arisen in dairy areas and Congress because Benson lowered government dairy price supports from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, effective at midnight tomorrow.

"This would assure dairy producers about 80 per cent of parity," Aiken said. "It should provide a long-range stability for all parts of the industry, especially farmers and producers."

Key Points in Program

Both Aiken and Anderson have been supporting administration proposals for ending rigid 90 per cent farm supports on major field crops in favor of a flexible system ranging from 75 to 90 per cent. Parity is a standard for farm prices said by law to be fair to producers in relation to prices they must pay.

Job Situation Leveling Off, Report Shows

BUC Claims Fall Off Nearly 1,000; State Total Hits 115,972

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The total of Ohioans out of work seven days or more dropped by nearly 1 000 during the week which ended last Saturday the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today

But in the same week nearly 1 000 more Ohioans lost their jobs than in the previous week to join the ranks of the newly unemployed

These two developments pointed up a leveling off in employment which began to become apparent about two weeks ago

As of last Saturday 115 972 Ohioans had been unemployed over week or more The figure as of the previous Saturday was 116 828

During the week which ended Saturday 15 470 Ohio workers were laid off or fired Some 14 945 became newly unemployed in the week which ended March 20

Most important employment areas of the state showed small plus or minus signs on their jobless rolls

Some improvement was noted in two of the tenderest employment spots in Ohio—Canton and Lorain

The total of unemployed for a week or more dropped by 989 in the Canton area This resulted from the upswing of employment at Alliance drop of 989 from the previous week

Canton showed some increase in jobs but a drop at Massillon exactly canceled it out The Stark County figures may be temporary however Some 7 024 became newly unemployed there last week only 862 lost their jobs in the three counties in the week which ended March 20 Total unemployment in the three city area last Saturday stood at 6 807 against 7,796 the previous Saturday

In Toledo total unemployment dropped by 218—from 10 003 to 9 875 The newly unemployed last week numbered 865 compared with 862 the previous week

7 of 10 Killed In B36 Crash

Bomber Falls Shortly After Take-Off, Burns

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Seven of the 10 men aboard were killed yesterday in the flaming crash of a B36 bomber that fell seconds after takeoff and burst into flames.

The plane hit the ground hard just off the runway at Fairchild Air Force Base, skidded through a small construction shed and quickly burned amid towers of dense smoke visible for miles.

The three survivors crawled, stumbled or were thrown to safety. A witness said it was "unbelievable" that anyone could have escaped.

Cause Not Known

The extent of their injuries couldn't be determined immediately nor could they say exactly now they got out alive. The cause of the crash was a mystery.

Fairchild officials identified six of the dead as:

M.Sgt. Heyward B. Davis, Plant City, Fla.

M.Sgt. Frank Rea, Ozone Park, N. Y.

S.Sgt. James E. Ryan, 3035 Harrison, Kansas City.

A.2.C. George W. King, Rt. 1, Hustonville, Ky.

A.1.C. Richard S. Scalia, 93 Willow St., Waltham, Mass.

A.1.C. Willard Daniels, Rt. 1, Gilmore Lake, Minong, Wis.

Name Withheld

The name of the seventh victim was withheld because of inability to contact kin, the Air Force said.

The survivors were Capt. Walter M. Koller, the aircraft commander; Maj. Virgil L. Westling, the pilot; and 1st Lt. Leroy B. Ross, the engineer. All have their homes here.

The five-million-dollar bomber with six piston and four jet engines was taking off just at sunset on a routine training mission.

Seconds after it left the ground, it veered to the right and crashed. It skidded several hundred feet, went through the shed and came to rest in flames next to a fence near the flight line.

Dulles

"united action" measures. A State Department aide said any moves would be discussed in detail with U. S. allies.

The secretary was interrupted 12 times by applause as he spoke to 1,000 persons at the dinner.

The speech was broadcast nationally by radio and television, and by the Voice of America abroad.

Dulles said that at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far Eastern problems the United States will not be "disposed to give Communist China what it wants from us, merely in exchange for its promises of future good behavior." He said the United States would not abandon the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa and encourage its "bloody liquidation by the Chinese Communists."

In a preview of the U. S. position at the peace conference on Korea and Indochina opening April 26 at Geneva, he declared:

"We hope that any Indochina discussion will serve to bring the Chinese Communists to see the danger of their apparent design for the conquest of Southeast Asia, so that they will cease and desist."

He also said the United States government has no intention of granting diplomatic recognition to Communist China or of voting to seat it in the United Nations.

"It is now the policy of the United States," he declared, "not to exchange United States performance for Communist promises."

Storm Sweeps Into New York, New England

Wintry weather, with snow, sleet and cold, hit wide areas from the Rockies to New England today.

The fast - moving early spring snow storm which struck the Midwest yesterday increased in intensity as it spread northeastward through the St. Lawrence Valley and into New England.

The falls in the Midwest ranged from 3 to 8 inches but there were 16 inches in Rochester, N. Y., and 13 inches in Washington, N. H.

At least 16 persons lost their lives from causes attributed to the storm. They included 8 in western New York state, 5 in Toledo, Ohio, and 3 in Iowa.

The cold Canadian air which moved into the north central region yesterday spread eastward over most of New England and extended southwestward to central Texas and westward to the Plateau region. More cold was in prospect for at least 24 hours for most of the mid-continent and the northeastern section of the country.

Freezing rain, sleet and snow were reported early today in sections of the Upper Ohio River Valley, the lower Great Lakes region and New England. The snowfall at Buffalo, N. Y., measured 13 inches; there were 8 inches on the ground at Jackson and Battle Creek, Mich., and about the same amount in Chicago.

It was below zero again today in Montana. Of 18 weather bureau stations reporting yesterday only 6 reported above zero readings. The 10 below zero at Helena was a record low for March 29. The snow at West Yellowstone Park measured up to 49 inches.

6-Inch Snow Closes Schools in Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—School was out today in Toledo following a spring snow storm which snarled traffic and caused five deaths.

Airport weathermen — about 10 miles south of Toledo—measured six inches of snow between 10 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. yesterday and said several more inches fell in the city.

City buses were up to an hour late on their evening runs.

Snow caved in part of the roof at the Coliseum skating rink and lightning struck and burned a barn owned by R. A. Sullivan at Whitehouse, 12 miles from the city. Twenty-seven sheep were killed.

Some school superintendents let students out early and all—including Toledo University—were closed today. They expect to reopen tomorrow.

The five Toledoans who suffered heart attacks were Lawrence Wagner, 38, Daniel Petrow, 65; Frank Gouthier, 52; Lawrence Klotz, 52; and Jay Mauk, 65.

Lenten Meditations

This is one in a series of Lenten meditations prepared by the members of the Marion County Ministerial Association for publication in The Star.

How Different

By REV. ASHLEY BOOTH
Pastor of Central Christian Church

"We never saw anything like this before."—Mark 2:12

What is the strangest sight you ever witnessed?

Wendell Wilkie observed in his book "One World" that the missionaries had created a great reservoir of good will for America.

Charles Darwin became a life subscriber to the London Missionary Society when he saw what Christianity had done for the natives of New Hebrides.

And a new follower of Christ testified, "Life is different for me now."

Everyone can tell of wonderful sights. But can one describe any event or scene which can equal the beauty of a Christian life? A part of our Christian witness today is again to capture the faith that will cause people to say "We never saw anything like this before."

Prayer: Clear our vision, Heavenly Father, so that we may see Christ above all other things. In His name, Amen.

Bus

begins to show a profit, the share-the-loss plan could cease, Baker said.

Jack E. Lautenslager, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that the cooperation of the merchants in this plan "is very commendable" and that it is "progressing very satisfactorily."

He said that so far more than 60 per cent of the businessmen in the Retail Merchants Division have approved the plan and that it is hoped approval of all of them will be obtained before the Thursday meeting.

He urged those businessmen who have not yet given their reply to do so as quickly as possible.

Would Make Survey

In his telephone conversation today, Baker said that after final arrangements are made he must send a company traffic man to Marion to make a thorough survey of the city and determine what routes "are proper" for the city.

Should the franchise be granted, the company would obtain the necessary buses and bring them to Marion. This may require a few days time, Baker said.

In previous discussions with city officials, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and City Council, Baker said the company would probably charge a 15-cent cash fare or four tokens for 50-cents with free transfers.

The company would have schedules and routes published which would give the exact time a bus would leave a certain point on each route, he said.

Promotional Campaign

The company also plans to conduct a promotional advertising campaign in cooperation with the merchants urging Marion residents to ride the buses and to do all their shopping in Marion, not go to other large cities, Baker said.

He pointed out in previous discussions that the merchants would not lose all their daily contribution for the purchase of bus tokens. Restored bus service would bring more shoppers into the downtown stores and would mean higher sales to offset the contributions, Baker said.

Total costs to individual merchants will be between 17-cents and $2.75 a day based on their volume of business.

Gen. Cannon Retiring

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. John K. Cannon, chief of the Tactical Air Command, will retire tomorrow after 37 years of duty. His is the longest service record of any Air Force officer.

A ceremony marking his retirement will be held at Bolling Air Force base here, with a fly-over salute by more than 40 jet fighters and jet bombers and a parade of about 2,000 troops.

7 Drivers Stopped By State Patrolmen

Seven traffic arrests were made yesterday by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Those arrested, the charges and disposition of cases were as follows: Charles S. Wimpee, 33, 434 N. Prospect St., improper parking, cited for Municipal Court Wednesday; Edward T. Simmons Jr., 26, 686 Wood St., improper parking, cited for Municipal Court Friday, and Talmadge E. Ragland, 21, Springfield, passing on the yellow line, fined $10 and costs by Mount Gilead Mayor Emery M. Murphy.

Also arrested were Ronald E. Richert, 21, Mount Vernon, speeding, forfeiture of $15 bond to Mayor's Court in Upper Sandusky; and Myron S. Reed, 44, Mansfield, yellow line violation, cited for Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington's Court Saturday.

Dairy

posals, as outlined by Aiken, are:

1. For the first time the government would support fluid milk prices directly, instead of indirectly through price floors under butter, cheese, dried milk and other milk products.

2. The price support level for milk would be tied directly to that of dairy feeds. Thus, if feedstuffs were supported at more than 75 per cent, dairy products would be too. Under present law, the secretary of agriculture has discretion to fix supports between 75 and 90 per cent.

3. Price supports could vary on different dairy products. They might be relatively higher on fluid milk, that sold for drinking and household uses, than on butter and cheese.

4. Distributors and processors would be required to pass on the benefits of government supports to producers. Aiken said this had not always been done in the past.

5. The secretary of agriculture would be given broad authority to dispose of surpluses already accumulated, including millions of pounds of butter, cheese and dried milk. He could do this by gifts to school lunch and relief programs, or by cut-rate prices to low-income, aged and other groups.

Involves Controls

Aiken said the program also involves marketing controls, under which the secretary could require producers to hold back part of their milk from market during periods of surplus.

Benson predicted yesterday that some retailers will cut prices on a pound of butter to 59 cents Thursday when the government drops supports from 65 to 57 cents. But he said most prices will be from 65 to 70 cents.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) got into the dispute over farm price supports last night with an announcement that he would ask Congress to let farmers decide "on crop-by-crop basis" what kind of government price supports they want.

Gas Co. Willing To Lift Freeze

Ready To Serve Most Of 75,000 Applicants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After seven winters Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has caught up to its market. The company announced today it is willing to lift the freeze on gas heat and is ready to service "virtually all" the 75,000 applicants who want gas to heat their homes.

The freeze originally was imposed by the state utilities commission and the commission must act to lift it. A hearing is scheduled Thursday to determine natural gas availability and the situation as to demand and supply of the fuel.

The freeze, which began in 1947 and which has been only modified from time to time since, was imposed at the request of several gas companies in the state.

Taxes

range of tax cuts in the bill, which would add almost another billion to the deficit. But a veto would cancel the extensions of present rates, too and result in a net revenue loss of 78 millions more than if the bill takes effect.

The tax-cutting urge in Congress in this congressional election year, was predominant as Senate and House conferees ironed out differences yesterday in earlier versions passed by the House and Senate.

The House bill would have provided only 912 millions in cuts. The Senate bill would have reduced taxes by $1,019,000,000. The Senate version had the best of it in the conference committee, and leaders in both chambers predicted prompt floor approval of the compromise.

The tax on most household appliances would be cut from 10 per cent to 5 per cent—a Senate provision. Affected would be refrigerators, stoves, home freezers, hot water heaters, electric irons, electric blankets, toasters, mixers, clothes dryers, dishwashers, power lawn mowers and garbage disposers.

Senate Version Accepted

The bill would wipe out any tax on movie or other admissions costing 50 cents or less. The House had rejected this proposal; the Senate voted to exempt admissions of 60 cents or less. The federal tax would end on regular season college athletic events, nonprofit museums or exhibits, and amateur civic theaters—another Senate provision.

The present 20 per cent rate would be kept on horse and dog race track admissions, night club and cabaret admissions, and club dues. The House bill would have cut these too, but the Senate voted to cancel those cuts.

The House bill had simply cut all admission taxes from 20 per cent to 10 per cent. The compromise version calls for this cut on all other admissions, including those above 50 cents, not dealt with specifically in the bill.

House Action Approved

The conference committee adopted a House-approved cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent on safe deposit boxes.

The committee accepted Senate action in knocking out a House-approved cut from 11 to 10 per cent in the tax on firearms and shells.

These cuts approved by both houses were not involved in the compromise:

From 20 to 10 per cent—Furs, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, electric light bulbs, cameras and film.

From 25 to 10 per cent—long-distance telephone calls and leased wires.

From 15 to 10 per cent—Sporting goods, mechanical pencils and pens, lighters, rail, bus and plane fares, local telephone bills, and telegrams.

Housing

mittee flew in the face of Eisenhower's request of last January for authorization of 140,000 new units in the next four years.

Goes Further

But the House Rules Committee, composed of eight Republicans and four Democrats, went even further. It refused yesterday to sanction the limited housing action of the Appropriations Committee.

The Rules Committee passed on all major legislation before it goes to the House. In this case, it held the Appropriations Committee had overstepped its authority by writing legislation into a money bill.

The upshot is that an objection by a single House member may knock out the authority for even 20,000 new starts next year.

If this happens, Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the Appropriations Committee told newsmen, "The housing program will be dead . . ."

Not even contracts already made, Taber claimed, could be carried out. Some Democrats disputed this.

AUTHORIZE STOCK CHANGE

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. stockholders voted yesterday to change the value of the firm's common stock from "no par" to $10 per share.

The company said about $16,690,000 would be transferred from capital surplus to the common stock stated capital account.

Felt U.S. Should Go to War

Roosevelt Invited Pearl Harbor, Admiral Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — A retired rear admiral Monday accused the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt of deliberately forcing Japan into war with the United States and of holding the Pacific fleet in Pearl Harbor to lure the Japanese into making a surprise attack on Hawaii.

Rear Admiral Robert A. Theobald also said that the top military command knew for certain two months ahead of time that Japan planned to attack Pearl Harbor, but repeatedly failed to relay any hint of this to the military commanders in Hawaii. That obviously was on Roosevelt's order, the admiral said.

New Argument

This new argument on who was to blame for the Pearl Harbor disaster was advanced by Theobald in a book, "The Final Secrets of Pearl Harbor," copyrighted in the weekly magazine "U. S. News & World Report."

The book itself will be published April 28.

Eight official investigations of the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Hawaii have thrown most of the blame on the army and navy commanders of the islands, Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short and Admiral Husband E. Kimmel. Neither was court-martialled but they were relieved from duty and retired from service.

Short died in 1949. Kimmel now lives in New London, Conn.

Theobald commanded a flotilla of destroyers in Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked. He was chosen by Kimmel as his counsel in the investigations that followed.

Cites Jap Messages

Theobald's book draws heavily on intercepted secret Japanese messages which he said were known to top officials in Washington but never relayed to Pearl Harbor. Kimmel wrote a foreward in support of the findings.

In another foreward, Admiral William F. Halsey, a top Pacific commander in World War II, says:

"I have always considered Admiral Kimmel and General Short to be splendid officers who were thrown to the wolves as scapegoats for something over which they had no control. They had to work with what they were given, both in equipment and information. They are our outstanding military martyrs."

Roosevelt's actions, Admiral Theobald wrote, stemmed from his reaction to the Nazi conquest of France. He said,

Reason for Action

"President Roosevelt became convinced the United States must fight beside Great Britain while the latter was still an active belligerent, or later sustain in the fight alone, as the last Democratic stronghold in a Nazi world."

But, Theobald said, Roosevelt at that time—1940—was faced by the fact that "isolationism was a dominant philosophy throughout the land, and the armed forces were weak and consequently unready."

Expert Tells Group in Marion How Family Agencies Can Help

Approximately 70 persons attended a membership meeting of the Marion Family Service Society Monday night which featured a talk by Miss Marjorie Boggs of the Family Service Association of Cleveland.

Her talk dealt with the services which a family agency is equipped to offer and how families needing help can be served through active cooperation between citizens and the agency. Her talk was followed by a panel discussion of questions from the audience.

Depends on Members

"An agency is no better than you make it," Miss Boggs told the members attending, adding that "we are just beginning to know how people tick and how best to help them."

Residents of a community can increase the effectiveness of a family agency in three ways, she said. First, they can watch their own reactions to situations and be ready to "reach out to the person who shows signs of needing help." A second way is to make sure there are broad community assets for meeting problems, including recreational facilities, where persons can feel "part of things."

A third way is for residents to be aware of the services which the local agency can offer and to be able to spread information about these services to as many people as possible, Miss Boggs said.

Understanding Needed

Understanding how a family agency works enables the person needing casework help to accept the fact that he does need help, and that this is not a sign of failure, but rather one of intelligence and courage, the speaker said. Another point Miss Boggs stressed was the importance of "getting people to us early enough."

Participating with Miss Boggs in the panel discussion were Judge E. J. Ruzzo, president of the society; Mrs. Doris C. Maxwell, executive secretary; Mrs. Anne L. McCuen, caseworker; and Mrs. John Waddell, chairman of the interpretation and public relations committee which sponsored the meeting.

The meeting was held in the YMCA beginning at 8 p.m.

3 Auto Accidents Reported in Marion

Three minor traffic accidents were reported on city streets during the last 24 hours by city police. The state highway patrol reported no accidents on county highways.

At 7:50 a.m. this morning cars driven by Kenneth J. Smith, 22, of 271 Nye St. and Rex, O'Brien, 33, of 534 Uncapher Ave. collided in front of 534 Uncapher Ave.

Cars driven by Mrs. James Williams of near Marion and Mrs. Donald Berridge, 28, of 362 Monroe St. collided at N. Prospect and Silver Sts. at 3:13 p.m. Monday.

An accident at 9:10 a.m. Monday involved cars driven by James E. Wylie, 34, of 284 Willow St. and Mrs. Virginia Osborne of near Marion.

Truck Rolls Into Cars

No one was hurt when a semi-truck, parked at the Sohio service station in Waldo, rolled into the station and two parked cars after its brakes loosened about 7:30 a.m. today.

Raymond Burnoskey, station manager, said that no estimate of the damage was available today. The accident was investigated by the sheriff's office.

$52,000 Voted by House For Bender Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, which refused a month ago to approve any funds for the investigating committee headed by Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), yesterday decided to keep the group in business.

It voted the subcommittee $52,000. Bender said part of the money would go for investigating labor racketeering in Minneapolis, Los Angeles, Detroit and Cleveland.

But Chairman Lecompte (R-Calif) of the House Administration Committee said he believed the legislation would prohibit using the funds for the investigation of labor racketeering. His committee wrote the legislation for the appropriation.

Congress

that he and Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, had checked lists with Eisenhower and had his approval for the push behind the economic measures.

Ferguson said he looks for no business recession of serious proportions but added that the economic measures should help along in the transfer from a Korean War to a peace economy.

He said he thinks final approval of a bill to reduce many excise taxes—which may come tomorrow—will serve as an immediate stimulant to business.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who opposed the billion-dollar cut Congress made in this instance, said last night Republicans could take credit for "the greatest tax reduction in history." He estimated the 1954 total at seven billions.

But the secretary said on an MBS radio program he doesn't believe any additional reductions will be in order, even if business does not pick up as he now expects it to do.

He said the public has been "a little misled in talk about how much business has to pick up," adding that employment in January and February of this year was higher than in any other year except 1953.

Ruling out emergency tax measures, Humphrey said he thinks the things the Republican administration is doing now "are sufficient and will do what is required" to keep the economy at a high level.

Theft

After removing the clothing from the store, Hudkins said he drove on a county road where he threw away some of the items. He later gave some of the clothes to Stewart, he added.

Bond was set at $2,500 for Hudkins and $1,000 for Stewart by Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen. Unable to post their bonds, the two men were lodged in the county jail.

Safety Award Banquet Plans Made by Group

Final plans for the annual safety award dinner were made Monday at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Manufacturers Council of the Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet will be held Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the YMCA under joint sponsorship of the Chamber group and the Division of Safety and Hygiene, Industrial Commission of Ohio. At that time safety awards will be presented to Marion industrial and business concerns in recognition of outstanding safety records during 1953.

Plans were also discussed for the annual Manufacturers Council dinner June 8 at the Country Club.

J. H. Walker, president of the Fairfield Engineering Co., presided. Recently elected officers will take over at the next meeting. John Lacey, vice-president of the Osgood Co., will replace Walker as chairman.

H-Bomb

600 or 700 times greater than the atomic bomb that virtually obliterated Hiroshima in the waning days of World War II. That early atomic age bomb killed 60,000.

The AEC did not indicate whether an actual H-bomb was exploded last Friday, or whether the test involved another thermonuclear "device" like the first one set off in the Marshalls in late 1952.

Another Due in April

The hydrogen tests are continuing and another, perhaps greater blast is anticipated in late April.

AEC said last night that "information highly important to national defense is being derived from this test series."

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said the AEC will brief him and other members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee today on the results of the latest blast.

Ever since the awesome details of the March 1 test began leaking, demands have been rising in Congress for President Eisenhower to let the public in on the real scope and significance of that explosion.

Just yesterday, Rep. Holifield (D-Calif), an atomic energy committeeman, told the House he had written Eisenhower asking that the President end worldwide "confusion, fear and hysteria" growing out of the H-bomb test reports.

Ike Declines to Comment

Until now, the President has declined to discuss in detail the March 1 explosion until he had had a briefing from Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC. Strauss returned Sunday from the Pacific proving grounds.

The most Eisenhower would say at his news conference last Wednesday was that the effects of the March 1 explosion were surprising even to the Americans who conducted the tests.

However, the American people will get some idea of the meaning of a hydrogen explosion in about a week. The government is releasing a censored picturization of the pioneer 1952 test for exhibition April 7. That the hydrogen blast nearly a month ago went beyond advance scientific calculations was evident from the fact that radioactive debris and moisture penetrated past the safety zone blocked out by AEC's generally cautious experts.

Some American technicians and a number of natives on the island believed beyond danger suffered some radiation effects. And a Japanese fishing craft was showered by radioactive coral ash, though she was 80 miles from the blast center. Her 23 crewmen were treated by Japanese and American doctors.

In Tokyo last night, Japanese health officials condemned as harmfully radioactive an 80,000-pound tuna catch brought in by another fishing boat that was 200 miles from the explosion.

Trade

it essential to achieve each of these objectives, declaring:

"Unless we are prepared to adopt the policies I have recommended to expand export and import trade and increase the flow of our capital into foreign investment, our friends abroad may be discouraged in their effort to reestablish a free market for their currencies. If we fail in our trade policy, we may fail in all. Our domestic employment, our standard of living, our security, and the solidarity of the free world — all are involved.

"For our own economic growth we must have continuously expanding world markets; for our security we require that our allies become economically strong. Expanding trade is the only adequate solution for those two pressing problems confronting our country."

Firemen Answer Alarm

Marion city firemen were called out only once Monday. At 7:17 p.m. Central and Mark St. station firemen answered an alarm to the city barn on Owens St. They reported a salamander — a type of portable outdoor heating unit — carried into the barn in a city truck flared up but set nothing afire.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Two Extremes

By Victor Riesel

This man I'm about to pass on to you oozed so much sincerity at lunch in St. Louis one afternoon six months ago that I reached for the check. Not only reached for it but actually paid it. Never did I hear such a tale of oppression. His attorney, of high position indeed in Washington last year, was also obviously overcome with emotion.

RIESEL

This "oppressed" chap, Evan Dale by name, told me everybody was picking on him — the government and national labor leaders alike. So I said I'd look into things. I did.

This big, six-foot-four downtrodden son of toil, I've discovered, is a wealthy man with six or eight sources of income in addition to being president and representative of the Southern Illinois District Council of the AFL Hod Carriers and Building Laborers Union. This makes him baron over 32 local unions in 19 Illinois and four Western Kentucky counties.

Now this baron is a tycoon of sorts, too, for he controls the regional General Construction Laborers' Area Council.

THIS HUSKY man, whose horny hands are more accustomed these days to the manicurist's nail file than to the pick and shovel, is of interest because his titles give him complete power over the pool of workers at the Joppa, Ill., power installation which feeds the atomic energy plant at Kevil Ky. Dale's men also work at a TVA power plant in the area.

My own interest in the district sprang from hundreds of letters I've gotten from rank - and - file members telling me that they've been forced into more than 140 strikes at these vital plants in the past year.

Obviously, obscurity has served Dale well. I discovered, among other things, that he has just been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of having evaded payment of $209,121 in income taxes from 1947 to 1952. Accountants, who have just figured my taxation anguish, tell me that if the government proves its case, Dale must have earned at least half a million dollars in that period.

IN 1952 ALONE, according to the federal charges, Dale allegedly evaded paying $86,966 in taxes. He is also under indictment for violation of the federal anuracketeering statute.

Now, aside from the fact that scores of FBI and Treasury Department Intelligence Division Agents, have had to spend considerable time in Missouri, Kentucky and Southern Illinois on Dale, it seems to me his case has done at least as much harm to labor as it has to all other facets of our land and of our effort to defend ourselves.

Such men as Dale came between labor and its friends. Regardless of anything else Dale may have done, there seems to be no excuse for the concentration of enormous power he now has in his hands. His control of so many local unions hardly fits into the scheme of democracy which the national labor leaders advocate.

The little fellows in labor loathe such concentrated power. I'm reminded, in this connection, of another Illinois labor leader, a fellow whom Dale would undoubtedly call a square. This other labor man is evidence that idealism has not gone out of the labor movement—but merely is being ignored by the big time operators like Dale, whom everybody seems powerless to remove.

THE OTHER LABOR fellow is from Chicago. He is Armand G. Morel, president of the small AFL Novelty Workers Union. Morel writes me:

"Not one of our officers or stewards, including myself as president of Local 44 and also shop committeeman at Eversharp, Inc., receive a salary outside of lost time. By lost time I mean that some days I have to leave my job to go to another factory for a meeting to serve the best interests of the local.

"I punch my time-card at work and the union makes up the time I lose on my paycheck. The only person who receives a salary is our business manager, who has no other source of income, and his salary is $75 a week plus car expenses.

"These statements can be verified by checking with any of our members or, upon request, we will furnish a list of all of our shops."

Well, these are the two extremes. I do not advocate here that the labor officials who lead unions of hundreds of thousands of members, or even locals of 5,000 go uncompensated. Or that they receive less than business executives with whom they negotiate.

I merely urge that a middle road be found and that idealism not be wiped out either by the cynicism or the easy money of our times.

Wasted Mail

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A wise man once said the best way to avoid trouble is never to answer a telephone—or open your mail.

But the greatest American university is still the U. S. postman's pouch. Few of us can resist at least opening the missives he brings — the stamp-marked slender paper shells full of odd bits of yearning and learning, threats to sue, political preachings, past-due bills, charity appeals, great business opportunities, and bargain offers that (unfortunately) can only be made for a limited time.

HAL BOYLE

IN THIS VAST postal sea each letter sets sail bravely, bearing a plea or message from one human being to another. The fate of most vessels in this myriad paper fleet is sad indeed. They reach port only to have their cargo—glanced at but often unread—tossed unceremoniously into a wastebasket, and their voyage is a failure. They have failed to deliver their message to Garcia—or Smith, Brown, Jones or McGillicuddy.

The ruinous loss of all this information, the wreckage of so many facts and fancies that cry out to be heard, distresses me. So now and then I salvage from my own morning mail such tidbits of our time, such quaint items of interesting lore, as may brighten the daze of people tired of brooding over bus ads on the long ride home.

Herewith are a few such nuggets of knowledge which, while they may fail to change your life, at least will provide you with an answer when your wife asks, "What's on your mind?"

PARIS, THE CAPITAL of France, now has about 400,000 trees, or roughly one tree for every 10 people . . . not counting tourists, of course . . . . It is estimated that the U. S. has 12 billion dollars invested in plants and businesses overseas . . . .

His biographers say Comedian Jerry Lewis won the heart of Patti Palmer, a singer, by hanging a pair of baby shoes on her dressing mirror with this note: "I haven't a buck, but what do you say we get married and fill these?" Now they have two sons (one is adopted), nine dogs, and nobody knows how many bucks.

What are you and your wife doing to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the tea bag? Just taking it in your stride? We, ponder this. Each tea bag has a blend of 20 to 50 different kinds of tea. . . . The tea bag was invented accidentally by an Irishman (as an Englishman once remarked, "The Irish never really do anything on purpose") named Tom Sullivan, a New York merchant who put out samples of his tea in small silk bags . . . had no idea the customers would start dunking them. But the idea caught on so well that today 46 per cent of the tea sold in America comes in bags, now made of a special filter paper.

DO YOU KNOW why many tall buildings don't have a 13th floor? Blame it on an old human disease called "triskaidekaphobia," or fear of the number 13. It has been regarded as unlucky by some ever since the last supper attended by Jesus and his 12 disciples.

Don't bet any money the horse will make a comeback on the farm soon. The only place the horse is safe from the tractor is on a race-track or in cowboy operas. Farm acreage that used to be needed to feed the horse now grows pork or other food for people. A farm worker in 1940 could supply food for only 10 people, by 1951 he could feed 15 . . . . So long, dobbin'. See you in the 5th at Jamaica . . . .

Now that winter is gone don't hesitate to swat that fly. The fly is an insect, like 75 per cent of all living creatures, including your neighbors. Only 10,000 of the 700,000 or more kinds of insects in this country infect man or his crops. But they cause about 50,000 different diseases, not counting spring fever.

REMEMBER, an insect never really surrenders, repents or will keep a promise to mend his ways. So swat that fly today and next summer you won't have to wear out your tennis arm swinging at his million descendants.

That exhausts my mail bag except for a belated Christmas card. Did you know that 16 per cent of all Christmas cards arrive late? And that one out of every 10 persons you send Christmas cards to will visit your later? Let that be a lesson to you.

Marion Knights of Columbus Hosts for Two-Day Convention

Members of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus were hosts to state officers and councils from adjoining areas for a two-day meeting and initiation Saturday and Sunday. A class of 45 candidates from Marion, Upper Sandusky, and Kenton was initiated. The first degree was conferred by members of Marion Council Saturday night in the council clubrooms and the major degrees by state officers in the Eagles hall on Sunday. Members and candidates attended the 9 o'clock mass and received communion in a body on Sunday morning in St. Mary's Church.

Climaxing the program was a banquet attended by 150 members and guests Sunday evening in Moira Hall. Speaker was Ray Bernert of Steubenville, executive assistant to the state deputy, who discussed Catholic Action and Communism. Rev. Robert Gately, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, spoke on the aims and work of the Knights of Columbus and in addressing the candidates urged them to live up to the ideals of the Knights of Columbus in their every-day life. Talks also were by Larry Rodgers of Warren, state deputy and Jack Cusick of Cleveland, state membership chairman. Presiding as toastmaster was Robert Murphy, grand knight of the local council.

Seated at the speaker's table were the state deputy, Larry Rodgers, Henry Kondrat of Cleveland, state secretary, Anthony Bosch of Toledo state treasurer, Thomas M. Dowd of Kenton, state advocate, Anthony Bruneman Jr., of Cincinnati state warden, Jack Cusick of Cleveland, Joseph M. Dunn, membership chairman, J. E. Andrews of Marion, and Vic Paul of Cuyahoga Falls, past state deputies, Father Gately and Frank Daum, banquet chairman.

Wives of the visiting knights were entertained by wives of local knights Sunday in the clubrooms. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Charles Simons, Mrs. George Burton, Mrs. Anthony D'Amato and Mrs. Frank Daum.

The state officers held an executive session Saturday afternoon at Hotel Harding, at which time plans were discussed for the annual state convention to be held May 23 and 24 in Cincinnati.

REV. JOSEPH DUPUIS
Directs Religious Education

Dupuis Appointed To Post by Central Christian Church

Rev. Joseph Dupuis, a teacher in the Marion school system, has been appointed part-time director of religious education at Central Christian Church.

An instructor in the sixth grade at Vernon Heights Elementary School and an ordained minister in the Assembly of God Church, he received his training at Central Bible Institute at Springfield, Mo., and was graduated from Florida Southern College in Lakeland, Fla. He has taken graduate work towards his master's degree at the University of Florida at Gainesville, Fla. He is married and lives at present in the Twin Oaks Trailer Park.

"While undergirding the total educational program of Central Christian Church, he will give special emphasis to the children's and youth phase of the congregational life," the pastor, Rev. Ashley Booth, said. He will plan his work in co-operation with the education committee of the church.

The selection committee which recommended him to the official board for the church position includes Cutler McGrew, Mrs. Oscar Cross, L. M. Sager, Harold VanGordon, and C. G. Wheeldon. Exofficio members of the committee are Berkeley M. Smith, chairman of the official board, and Rev. Booth.

STARTING DATE SET

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Construction of the Straits of Mackinac bridge to connect Michigan's two peninsulas will start the middle of next month, the Mackinac Bridge Authority said yesterday. The 100 million dollar bridge is scheduled to be completed in 1957.

GOP Stand on Asia Unchanged

Dulles Speech Reassures Policy Chiefs

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans have made a political issue of the charge the Democrats were "soft" on communism, a charge they wouldn't want the Democrats to wrap around their necks by a turn of events.

Some of Secretary of State Dulles' fellow Republicans in Congress expressed misgivings when he agreed to meet April 26 in Geneva with the British, French, Russians and Chinese Communists to talk about peace in Korea and Indochina.

This could be interpreted as fear by members of his own party that Dulles might be outsmarted by the Communists or that he wasn't strong enough to stand up to them.

—:—

LAST NIGHT, a month before the Geneva meeting, Dulles sought to allay any fear of what the Eisenhower administration might do at Geneva with a New York speech in which he said:

This country not only would not recognize Red China but would not agree to letting her into the United Nations.

This seemed to slam the door on either possibility. But the way in which he phrased his speech might indicate the door was left slightly ajar, provided the Chinese took the bait he left outside.

What Dulles said was this: The United States would not recognize a nation that "actively attacks our vital interests" or approve a U. N. seat for one that "promotes the use of force in violation of the principles of the United Nations."

AS ILLUSTRATION, he pointed out the Red Chinese still occupy North Korea and are supplying the Communist-led Vietminh their war against the French in Indochina.

Although Dulles didn't say so, the Chinese could take his words to mean they might some day look forward to recognition and a U. N. seat if they surrendered to the U. S. demands:

1. By withdrawing from North Korea, agreeing on a peace settlement for North and South Korea, and permitting all Koreans to vote for their government, which undoubtedly would mean a government under the American ally Syngman Rhee.

2. By abandoning the Vietminh to their fate, thus cutting off their supplies or telling their Vietminh agents to stop the Indochina war on terms acceptable to the French and the United States.

Such a Chinese surrender seems remote. If that was all that was involved, Dulles' speech would make the Geneva conference appear doomed beforehand to be conversation only.

—:—

BUT THE CHINESE won't be his only problem. There are the French.

If it wasn't for American aid, the French couldn't continue the war in Indochina.

The United States, in its fight against Communist expansion, has in short, although Dulles stands like stone on Communism, now clearly hearing his position, will use the conference to offer terms which might split the Reds.

If they can do this they will have won at Geneva.

WHAT HAPPENS IF, while Dulles is being tough with the Communists at Geneva, they offer an Indochina deal which the French want to buy but which is unacceptable to the United States? Will the French go ahead then? What does the United States do?

EXPENSIVE FISH

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Most trout fishermen already know that they'd be ahead financially if they bought their fish at a market. So it appears, would the state of Idaho. James Simpson, state fish division chief, says it cost the state an average of $1.01 per pound to raise trout in hatcheries last season.

Before the turn of the century gasoline was a waste produce in the production of kerosene.

Major Cities Fight Bell Co. Boost

Rate Formula To Be Hit At Ohio Phone Hearing

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Ohio law that spells out how utilities can raise rates to customers will be in for its share of attack at the Ohio Bell Telephone Co rate hearing coming up at a date yet to be set

The law says utilities are entitled to earn a fair return on the value of their property The value of the property, as determined by the commission is called the "rate base"

The higher it is the more money the utility can take in That value is determined by figuring not much it would cost to reproduce the property today using today's labor and material costs and then subtracting depreciation

Ohio Bell wants the commission to grant it permission to charge higher rates for telephone service —enough to bring in an additional $8 813 000 a year

Major Ohio cities served by Ohio Bell will fight the request at the public hearing for which a date has not yet been set Legal officers met recently in Columbus and decided to file with the commission an 11 point protest probably this week

Chalmers P Wylie Columbus city attorney who was one of the leaders at the meeting said the cities will claim "the rate base is excessive and exaggerated The cities also will attack the rate of depreciation the company uses in setting its rate base claiming it is lower than that used by other Bell companies.

There's more than one way of determining a company's value and the Ohio method has been under attack before

The Ohio House Judiciary Committee one year ago heard arguments for and against changing the law—and the arguments still are being used today The law was not changed

The committee was told Ohio is the only state that still uses what the state administration calls "this outmoded system as its sole test of a company's value The committee was told the present law makes it virtually impossible for the state utilities commission to deny any company a rate increase under inflationary conditions Changes would let the commission use more judgment in determining whether a rate increase is necessary and if so how much should be granted

The bill that died in the General Assembly would let the commission consider the original cost of the company's property together with any other factors it may consider proper in determining what a utility company is worth

Those who wanted to change the law argued "reproduction cost new" has no connection with the actual value of an existing plant because especially with telephone companies part of the plant of a company seeking a rate increase is obsolete They said it might cost one million dollars to reproduce an old business plant but only half as much to build a different but better plant They wanted to bring the original cost of the company into the picture for rate increase figuring

Arguments against the bill were that any change in the rate base would disturb financing arrangements of utilities Companies providing public utility service since the war have been greatly expanding their plants in many cases Their arguments were that in a period of great construction they should not be subject to a change in the rate base at a time when the need the most money for expansion

The utilities told the lawmakers the present system has resulted in low rates for Ohioans

The reproduction cost new method works both ways they said In times of a depression it would cost less to reproduce buildings and equipment and rates should drop

Utility forces claimed the commission by using original cost alone could possibly work great harm on a company it was out to get denying it a rate to which it was entitled

They summed up their arguments by saying the present system seems to be working because utilities are in a healthy condition financially rates are competative is low and they attract new industries to the state

More About Adventure

On last Sunday's "Adventure" (CBS-TV 4 30 p.m. EST Sundays), a paleontologist named Dr. George Gaylord Simpson was talking to the chief narrator of the Charles Collingwood, about the origin of the earth. The earth, said Dr. Simpson was originally not a solid at all but just a molten ball.

J. CROSBY

As he spoke, there were movies of the earth as a molten ball, boiling and bubbling. I don't know where they got these pictures. The CBS news staff has had its cameras around a lot of notable news events, but I rather suspect CBS was not around to record the origin of the earth. However, that particular stretch of film is just an example of the remarkably interesting things that are being done on this show to make education as absorbing as Milton Berle.

SINCE "ADVENTURE", is the joint child of the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Museum of Natural History, started roughly a year ago, the scientists and the broadcasters have never stopped experimenting with films and cameras and techniques to make nature come alive and, above all, to become visual.

Showmanship and science have not, as one might have expected, warred. There has been a surprising and wonderful camaraderie between scientist add showmen and in fact, some of the most showmanlike suggestion for improving "Adventure" have come from the scientists, not the showmen.

I think I am safe in saying that "Adventure," as of this writing, is the most experimental television program anywhere around and I hope it stays around. I throw that in only because "Adventure" has gone without a sponsor for almost a year now and the boys are a little nervous that CBS might drop it if this situation continues much longer. I don't know why a sponsor in search of a prestige program — and there are a few — doesn't pick up the tab here. It's a wonderful show.

LAST SUNDAY, Dr Simpson, a splendidly learned specimen of a scientist, plunged boldly back some 70,000,000 years and traced the earth's progress from the molten earth, through its cooling period when it rained uninterruptedly for several million years (and there were films of that, too) up to comparatively recent times just a couple million years ago.

His language about these mighty events had a certain simple grandeur. "There was no soil. There was nothing but rock, water and sunlight. And his discourse was touches of humor. "Mammals are not supposed to lay eggs but some of them do. It's very embarrassing for everyone."

"It's extraordinary how successful this group (mammals) has been," he mused at one point. Yes, it is, isn't it. Mankind (to name only one mammal), with all its warts, has done remarkably well, all things considered, and I'm happy to see it get a good notice from Dr. Simpson.

AFTER DR. SIMPSON had pretty well disposed of the earth in its broader aspects, the program moved over to a rather more especialized subject — the development of the horse from the eohippus, which is about the size of a fox, to Native Dancer.

This particular lecture was delivered by Dr. Edwin H. Colbert, curator of fossils, amphibians and reptiles for the museum, and the questions were being asked by Mr. John O'Reilly, who is curator of fossils, amphibians and reptiles, for the New York Herald Tribune.

I was especially interested in this passage because I have known Mr. O'Reilly, man and boy, since — well, the earth had barely cooled— as tosspot, matchplayer, country squire and gentleman birdwatcher, and this was a whole new facet of his character. He acquitted himself remarkably well and I expect CBS will have to lock the cameras up to keep Mr. O'Reilly from wandering in front of them all the time now. Show business is a heady thing.

And "Adventure" is a splendidly stimulating intellectual experience of a Sunday afternoon. Now, if we could just find a sponsor for it . . .

Job Found Useful

SALT LAKE CITY (UP) — Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, a Utahan who is now treasurer of the United States, admits her job is sometimes extremely useful.

She laughingly told of trying to cash a check in a New York City department store. Asked for indentification, she found she had plenty of cards, but none with her signature.

Finally she pulled a one-dollar bill from her purse and suggested the clerk check the signature on it with the writing on her check.

The check was cashed.

Ludwig van Beethoven, the composer was both nearsighted and very hard of hearing in his later years.

Crawford Chapter Receives Aid From National Polio Unit

GALION — A check for $8,000 has been received from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to help provide care for polio patients, here, it was announced today by Marvin Adams, chairman of the Crawford County chapter of the March of Dimes organization.

"This financial help comes as part of a general national foundation arrangement to provide needy chapters with immediate emergency aid," Adams said.

Adams explained that March of Dimes funds raised each January and February are shared with national headquarters The chapter spends its portion for patient care, and national headquarters finances research, epidemic services, professional education and emergency aid to chapters. This year National headquarters added another program — Polio Prevention — which consists of increased supplies of gamma globulin and studies of a trial vaccine against polio.

The Crawford County 1954 campaign to raise funds to fight polio closed March 1, with a total receipt of $18,196.71 as compared to $8,447.44 campaign receipts in 1953.

One-third of the total amount collected was sent to New York to assist with the March of Dimes research and polio prevention program, one-third was forwarded to national headquarters and the remaining one-third is held by the local chapter.

Portugal Progresses

LISBON (UP) — Portugal has successfully entered the operational stage of a five-year $240,000,000 program to develop the world's third largest colonial empire according to the budget for 1954.

The colonial scheme will develop ports, dams, railways, roads, telecommunications, industries and health in the 2,170,276 square kilometers of an empire stretching to Timor. The 1954 budget will get the program moving at top speed.

Morrow Scout District Drive Starts April 13

MOUNT GILEAD — Chairmen named to head the Morrow District Boy Scout finance campaign, starting April 13, have been announced.

Richard Claar, general manager of the Morrow County Hospital, has been named campaign chairman for the drive in the Morrow district, and Charles Birdsong, owner and operator of the Charles W. Birdsong, Inc., in Mount Gilead, is chairman of the Mount Gilead campaign.

Approximately 100 campaigners will be used to conduct the drive. They will be organized into 17 teams, each headed by a team captain. In keeping with Scouting policy, a no dollar-and-cents goal is set for any community. Birdsong said that Mount Gilead's only goal is 600 gifts from "friends of Scouting." The total Harding Area Council goal is the council operating budget for $32,430 for the four-county area comprising Morrow, Crawford, Marion and Wyandot Counties, Morrow district today has 348 registered Scouts, Cubs and Explorers, or 17 per cent of the total membership of 2,050 boys in the council.

Funds for carrying on the Scouting program in the council come from Community Chests in Carey, Bucyrus and Marion and from independent Scout campaigns in the council run in conjunction with Scout anniversary week in February.

Mrs. Walter Winfield Hostess for WCTU Unit

Mrs. Walter Winfield of 517 E. Farming St. was hostess for a meeting of the Frances Willard WCTU Wednesday at her home. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Lynn Harris, prayers were offered by Mrs. Margaret Ours, Mrs. Belle Donaugh and Mrs. Mattie Gross, and Mrs. Doris Strine, in charge of the program, gave biographies of the lives of several missionaries.

Mrs. Gross gave a report on the national paper, the Union Signal. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Edith Bibler. The next meeting, April 15, will be an all-day meeting in the Greenwood EUB Church parish house, with a potluck dinner at noon. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Ours and Mrs. Paul Cyders.

Cards Dreaming of Pennant; Cubs Change Manager

Raschi, Haddix and Staley Hold Key to Club's Finish

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

It seems incongruous that a team that finished 23 games back of the pennant winner should be considered a threat the next year.

Yet, the St. Louis Cardinals—although they're not talking pennant by any means—certainly are thinking along those lines. And despite the fact that they can send shivers up and down the opposition's spine with such blockbusters as Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst and Enos Slaughter, their pitching will have to carry the load if they hope to overhaul the Brooklyn Dodgers and fight off the Milwaukee Braves.

As of today, the Cards show a far from spectacular 13-8 record in the Grapefruit League. But Eddie Stanky's pitchers have been coming through handsomely and even in some losses they've looked good.

In the last six games, the Card hurlers have allowed only 14 runs, a little more than two per game. They've been supported by 18 runs for those six games and nary a home run. The last round-tripper by a Card was Musial's more than a week ago.

But with Vic Raschi, obtained from the New York Yankees (to work on the Dodgers), Harvey Haddix (with an 0.50 ERA in the exhibition loop), Gerry Staley (an 18-game winner last year) and Tom Poholsky (just back from the Army), who got credit for yesterday's 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox, the Cards will be no patsies.

The amazing Baltimore Orioles, continued their sweep through the exhibition trail by edging the Chicago Cubs 4-3 for their fifth decision in nine games with the Bruins. The Orioles came from behind to pound Howie Pollet for three runs in the ninth inning.

Six hours later, the Cubs, losers of 15 of their 20 games this spring, changed managers. Phil Cavarretta was let out and Stan Hack, who had been managing Los Angeles, the Cubs' Pacific Coast League club, became the pilot.

The New York Giants beat the Cleveland Indians 4-1 behind Larry Jansen and Mario Picone. The veteran Jansen tossed five scoreless innings.

Murry Dickson became the first Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher to go seven innings and he had little trouble. The punchless Phils woke up and lambasted the Dodgers 19-5.

Ted Kluszewski played Frank Merriwell for the Cincinnati Redlegs by lofting a two-run home run in the ninth inning to give his club a 9-8 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Washington outlasted the Detroit Tigers 12-8 mainly through the efforts of Eddie Yost, who poled three home runs.

Milwaukee defeated Macon of the Sally League 12-4.

Young Marks Birthday, Waits Out Snowstorm

NEWCOMERSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Cy Young, waiting for "this storm to get over," spent his 87th birthday reading cards and letters of congratulation yesterday.

Young, whose 510 pitching victories are the most ever turned in by a major leaguer, explained the "big celebration" was Sunday when he and Mr. and Mrs. John Benedum with whom he lives had a turkey dinner at the Carrollton home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Garner Stratton.

Noting the snow on the ground, Young said he was "feeling good," although he goes outside only to help with the chores.

Pointing out he still is active despite a "bad leg," Young said "we went over to Canton Saturday night for a big Masonic doings."

During 5 of the 22 years he pitched, Young won 30 or more games. And he won 3 no-hitters—for Boston against Philadelphia May 5, 1904, in the American League; for Cleveland against Cincinnati Sept. 18 1897; and for Boston against New York June 30, 1908, in the American League.

Nelson Failure Stumps Lopez; Rookie Shines

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Cleveland's Manager Al Lopez pondered again today on what to do about Rudy Regalado, the rookie sensation without a spot to play, and Rocky Nelson, disappointing candidate for the vacancy at first base.

He could give up on Nelson, who had a .308 batting average at Montreal last season. But if he does, he still would have to decide on whether to move Regalado in to first or third. The youngster looks best at third, but putting him there would mean moving Al Rosen around to first—and Rosen was the league's most valuable player in 1953.

With two weeks before opening day, Lopez declares "in all my years in baseball, I've never seen a first-year man have the spring Regalado is having. You can't believe it if you don't see it."

Nelson says he is not satisfied with his hitting but holds, "I'm way ahead of the pitchers. I've been playing ball for two straight years, winter and summer. I'm too far in front with my swing. The pitchers haven't caught up to me." And he adds, hopefully, "the pitchers are getting faster. They're catching up."

Nelson went hitless in three chances yesterday while Regalado got one hit in two chances at the New York Giants trimmed the Tribe, 4-1, at Tucson, Ariz.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Southern Ohio Professional Golfers Assn. yesterday re-elected Norman Butler of Dayton president at the annual meeting here. The association said the annual championship tournamnet will be held at Elks Country Club at Hamilton. No date has been set.

Lastarza in Action On London Feature

LONDON (AP)—Roland Lastarza and Don Cockell, a pair of top heavyweights who seek a crack at champion Rocky Marciano, meet tonight at Earls Court Arena on a tripleheader fight card.

Along with the 10-round feature a sellout crowd of 18,000 is due to see former world middleweight champion Randy Turpin meet an unbeaten Swede from Gotebung named Olle Bengtsson and Yolande Pompey battle Ivano Fontana, an Italy light heavyweight.

For the price of one ticket the bill includes a lot of talent.

Rio Attendance 164,000

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP)—Coach Newt Oliver says his Rio Grande College basketball team, featuring Bevo Francis, played to more than 164,000 persons on its tour of the East and the Midwest.

The largest crowds were at New York's Madison Square Garden and the Boston Garden, where some 13,000 attended. The smallest crowd, 900—was at Jackson, Ohio.

Final Game Carded for YMCA Play

Local basketball fans will catch their last look at Independent Basketball Thursday night when two of Ohio's leading amateur teams clash on the local YMCA floor to determine the winner of the Y's Invitational Basketball tournament held early in the season.

The Phythian Drugs of Columbus, winner's of the 1954 Columbus "Champ of Champ" tournament and City League champions will tangle with Meyer's Pumps of Ashland at 8.30 p.m. Green Camp Elevator and the Peoples Store of Delaware will meet in the consolation game at 7:30.

Both games were scheduled earlier in the year in the YMCA's pre-season tournament. However, due to the start of leagues in Columbus and Ashland and the conflict with local schedules of the three YMCA adult leagues, neither team has been able to agree to a date earlier.

Since the Phythian Drugs and Meyer's Pumps reached the finals, they have gone through successful seasons in their own areas. The Meyers Pumps team is composed of former Ashland College stars.

Ashland High School's popular athletic director, George Valentine, will appear with the Pumps in their final game. Y officials reported today. Valentine has been out of action for most of the season after suffering a fractured arm in a game at Ashland.

The Phythian Drugs' greatest threats are Rollie Harris, all-state center from Columbus east's state championship team of two years ago, and Ambrose Towers, another rangy point getter who has been a terrific asset to his team in the five appearances the Drugs have made in Marion over the past six years.

Presentation of trophies to the pre-season tournament will be made following the game to winning captains. Additional trophies will be presented to Green Camp Elevator, winner's of the season tournament and Open League Champions, Marion Industries, for capturing the Industrial League and North West District YMCA Industrial play-off's, and to Wesley Methodist, champions of the YMCA Church League and winners of the North West District Church Basketball play-offs. Runner-up trophies will be given to Mount Gilead's Farm Bureau team for finishing second in the post season tournament which ended last week.

A member of the physical education committee of the Marion YMCA will make the trophy presentations.

Kid Scoffs

Weight and Record Give Olson Edge Over Gavilan

CHICAGO (AP)—Advantages in weight and record apparently are the main factors that have tipped the betting odds in favor of Bobo Olson in his title battle Friday with Kid Gavilan.

The middleweight champion is an 8-5 favorite, in man-to-man betting to retain his crown against the welter titlist.

The Gavilan camp scoffs at the odds, saying the differences in weight and performance against mutual opponents—both in Olson's favor—are mere "paper fighting."

The feeling there is that Gavilan is the best fighter in the world—up to and even possibly including heavyweights—and that he'll prove it at Chicago Stadium Friday.

As for the weight question, there's no doubt that Olson is going to have a distinct edge. He's a steady 160-pounder, at the most may drop a pound below. Gavilan of course, won his welterweight championship at the 147-pound limit and doesn't figure to be more than five or six pounds heavier against Olson.

"We don't expect it to be an easy fight for Bobo," says Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty. "But in the end it's going to be the old story of a good little man against a good big man—the good big man always wins."

Another Olson strategist says the middleweight champ's heft advantage may be as much as 10 pounds by ringtime. "Right after the weigh-in Bobo will start putting on weight," he declared. "By fight time he may weigh as much as 163."

To all this, Gavilan merely grins, points out that he has fought—and licked—a number of men as big as Olson, and maybe just as good, and says the difference in weight means nothing compared to the difference in degree of pugilistic excellence.

"I am real fighter, you know," is how he puts it. "Bobo I think punches not so very good."

Jackson Belts Dan Bucceroni, Eyes Marciano

NEW YORK (AP)—A national unknown until two months ago Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson today sought a shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and dared any other leading contender to fight him. And nobody laughed.

The tireless non-stop punching, 22-year-old New York Negro became an outstanding challenger last night by stopping dangerous Dan Bucceroni, third-ranking heavyweight contender, in 1:58 of the sixth round at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Referee Al Berl halted the massacre as the lanky, 2-1 favored Philadelphian reeled around the ring with his right eye almost shut and with blood oozing from a cut over the same orb. The 192-pound Bucceroni, stopped for the second time in his career, never fell but he was close to exhaustion when Berl intervened.

Bucceroni risked an almost certain September title shot for a $10,000 guarantee against Jackson. The gamble backfired disastrously.

About 80 million tons of coke were produced in the United States in 1953.

Stan Hack, Former Chicago Star, To Replace Cavarretta

DALLAS (AP)—Phil Cavarretta and the Chicago Cubs parted company after 20 years today and a 32-year-old former Chicago baseball star—Stan Hack—stepped in as manager.

Cavarretta, a star player for 17 years but unable to win as manager in two full seasons was relieved of his post here yesterday after the Cubs had dropped their 15th spring exhibition game in 20 starts. It was the first managerial change in the major leagues this year.

Wid Matthews, director of playing personnel of the Chicago organization, told Cavarretta he was to change places with Hack, who has been manager of the Los Angeles Club in the Pacific Coast League. Cavarretta balked and said he would seek a major league connection elsewhere.

Matthews insisted that Phil wasn't fired but Cavarretta had a different view. "I come home and get fired," he said sadly. He now lives in Dallas and operates a children's amusement park here.

Matthews gave no reason for the action other than that it was "for the good of all concerned." But at Phoenix, Ariz., Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs said: "This year when he picked everyone but us to finish in the first division, he was picked before he started. He said he did not have the kind of ballplayers he wanted. He had sort of given up on the boys, so to speak, feeling that they were not premium material. Well, maybe not, but they could be with the will to win."

Hack, who is flying to Shreveport to take over as manager tomorrow when the Cubs arrive there to play the Baltimore Orioles, said at Los Angeles that he was surprised that he had been picked.

"All I can say is that I'm going to pick up where Phil left off," Hack declared. "I will add this: it is wonderful to get back to Chicago where I spent my entire major league career."

Matthews said Cavarretta was offered the same salary at Los Angeles that he was receiving from the Cubs and that he would be paid his full 1954 salary although he refuses to go to the Pacific Coast League Club.

"I was really shocked," Cavarretta said at his home here. "Matthews told me right after the ball game. He just said Stan was coming in to take over the ball club. And if I wanted to stay with the Cub organization, I could take over Los Angeles. I just couldn't see going out to Los Angeles. I thought I had done a good job with the material I had. So I get free in spring training."

Cavarretta, 37, became manager of the Cubs in midseason of 1951, replacing Frank Frisch. His club was fifth in 1952 and seventh last year. Hack, 47, finished his playing career in 1947 and managed Des Moines in the Western League and Springfield, Mass., in the International League before going to Los Angeles.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

SHORT

Thousands of high school pupils from all parts of Ohio, including several from Marion and the surrounding area, jammed into Cleveland over the past weekend to witness the state high school basketball tournament.

Many of the students, especially those from the competing schools, were on an excitement binge brought on by their team's bid for state laurels. Many others were spending their first weekend away from control of their parents and teachers.

But Cleveland took the full scale invasion in stride and the visiting students presented no behavior problems.

One police officer reported "We had been expecting a little trouble but the kids have surprised us. Their most serious acts have been driving up and down Euclid Ave. yelling for their school to win. So far they've been less trouble than a lot of adult conventions I've worked."

RESTAURANT operators in downtown Cleveland reported the visitors were well-behaved and caused no disturbance in their establishments. "Most of them seem to have enough money to keep themselves busy," one waitress remarked. A theater cashier reported she thought she had sold tickets to an unusual number of high-school-age customers Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Several groups of high school boys had hitch-hiked to Cleveland for the two games. Those from New Lexington and Delphos had little trouble getting tickets for the Class B game Saturday afternoon but those who went for the Saturday night Class A title clash couldn't understand why they were unable to obtain tickets to watch their teams.

The ticket windows had exhausted their supplies early in the afternoon. Scalping operations, however, were carried on openly in front of the Arena. The scalpers were forced to hike their Class A prices after taking a beating before the afternoon session.

PARKING WAS the biggest problem for fans who drove to the game. Four big lots near the Arena handled the cars but insisted on parking them bumper to bumper. After each session, the drivers were forced to wait for the car in front of them to leave.

Hamilton seemed to be the best represented in the Arena. The cheering section of the Big Blue made the most noise and twice the number of autos with Hamilton banners were seen than those with Columbus South signs.

Scoreboard at Harding Stadium Felled by Wind

Harding High School athletic officials today were attempting to determine the amount of damage to the scoreboard at Harding stadium which was leveled by the high wind here Sunday afternoon.

A cable at the west side of the board was snapped during the gale and the board fell before the wind. One row of concrete blocks in the foundation also was disturbed, athletic officials reported today.

GRID DRILLS DELAYED

CLEVELAND (AP)— John Carroll University's spring football drills were postponed yesterday until April 22. Coach Herb Eisele looked out his window at the snow on the ground and then called the Weather Bureau before ordering the 22-day postponement.

Helen Culp fired 200-538 for honors in the Monday Night Ladies League at Palace Recreation. Sue Disbennett cracked 189 - 183 - 526 while Mary Prior totaled 189-494. Connie Gibson 186-482, Pearl Snyder 181 and Zoe DeMilt 495. Team honors went to Baldauf Construction with 867-2380.

B. Thorpe's 222-575 performance showed the way in the Marion Industries League at Marion Recreation. Tool Room No. 1 with 848-2368 had high team score.

A 208-568 by L. Larson highlighted action in the Utility League. Team No. 1 fired 841-2481 for team laurels.

Mercantile League keglers were paced by Bill Drollinger's 203 and a 548 by Al LaValley. Val Mar rolled 859 while Lefflers totaled 2433 to lead the teams.

Darrel Murton's 211 and a 550 by Elzie Hutchinson were tops in the Nite Shift League. Hutchinson hit a 202 game while Gail Debolt, an extra kegler, cracked 234. Nite Hawks hit 868 and H & H Bar accumulated 2392 for team honors.

Palace League bowlers were topped by B. Morgan's 223 and a 602 by D. Penry. Eight games of 200 or more were rolled there. Palace Recreation with 939-2751 paced the teams.

Galion Field Trials Top Awards Taken By Dogs in Area

GALION — Dogs from Ashland, Shelby, Mansfield and Sycamore, were winners in the 35th annual field trials of the Crawford County Coon Hunters and Sportsmen's Association at the Crawford County fairgrounds, Sunday.

In the trials there were 22 senior dogs, 135 junior dogs and 63 green dogs running in the eliminations. A senior dog is one that has won a final of $40 or more; a junior dog is one that has not won a final of $40 and a green dog is one that has never won a heat.

Rock, owned by Kenny Weltman of Ashland, won the $39.50 purse in the tree finals, and My Pride, owned by Cox and son of Shelby, took the $39.50 for the line finals. Gold Coin, owned by Clyde Moore of Mansfield, was the runner-up in the tree finals, and Slim, owned by Sowers and Bowen of Sycamore, took second-line honors. Each received $32.50.

Consolation finals were won by Mississippi Rock, owned by Messer and Newton of Bellville, and second place was a tie between Dan Patch, owned by Cox and Son, Shelby, and Rusty Boy, owned by Hunt and Chestnut, Vermilion. The winner got $14 and the runners-up, split $12. A total of $406 was paid out to the various winners and 22 line heat winners.

Included among the 18 heat winners in the tree events were: Doc, owned by Lester Cook of Upper Sandusky; All Star, Clyde Moore, Mansfield; Tennessee Dusty, Cox and Beach, Kenton, and Blue Boy, Cox and Son, Shelby.

Heat winners in the line event also included: Spider and Red Buttons owned by Bill Weller, Johnstown; Tiger Boy, Moore, Mansfield; Rat, John Saxon, Prospect; Slim, Sowers and Bowen, Sycamore; Quitter, Delbert Saunders, Prospect; Drumm, Gatchel, Nevada, and My Pride, Cox and Son, Shelby.

Prexy Runners Preparing for Opening Play

Harding High School's track squad, still unable to move outside, is drilling for its first action of the year Saturday at the Denison indoor meet.

Weather conditions have prevented the rolling of the track at Harding stadium and Coach Ken Somerlot has kept his charges running in the gym. The first dual meet is scheduled here next Tuesday against Worthington. Worthington last week won the Greater Columbus indoor meet with its ace distance man, Jack Blackburn, leading the way.

The meet Saturday will begin at 1 p.m. on the Denison University 146-yard indoor track. All dash and hurdle events will be over a 55-yard distance. Quarter-milers will circle the track three times, half-milers six times and the mile run will include 12 laps.

A single boy from each school will be entered in the individual events four boys running two laps in the sprint relays. In the mile relay four boys will run three laps. Somerlot added a medley relay would include one half-miler, a 142-yard sprinter, a quarter-miler and a mile run at the finish.

Other schools which have entered the meet include Lancaster, Newark, Worthington, Upper Arlington, Mount Vernon, Shaker Heights, East Palestine, Mansfield and six from Columbus, South, Central, West, East, North and Linden McKinley. Medals will be awarded first and second place winners while third, fourth and fifth places will earn ribbons.

Fire Sweeps Barn At Crestline Farm

CRESTLINE — A barn, farm machinery, grain and livestock were destroyed Monday night in a fire at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hines, Route 181, a half mile southeast of Crestline.

Firemen from the Crestline and Ontario departments fought the blaze for several hours. Cause of the fire was unknown.

One cow, a hog, and seven small pigs perished in the flames which swept through the barn, burning some 300 bushels of wheat and hay, and several pieces of farm machinery. Esumate of damage was well over $6,000.

State highway patrolmen from the Mansfield post were on duty at the scene to direct traffic.

Crestline firemen were also called Sunday night to the N. Wiley St. railroad crossing where the watchman's shanty was almost destroyed by fire. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Redlegs Defeat Yanks 9-8 on Homer by Kloo

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts said as of today Bud Podbielan, 30-year-old righthander, is his No. 1 candidate to pitch the opening day game against the Milwaukee Braves.

Podbielan dropped a 2-0 decision in last year's opener to Max Surkont and the Milwaukee Braves. Bud lost 15 more and won 6 in building a so-so 4.74 earned run average.

Tebbetts also announced his starting lineup—minus a definite right-fielder—with third baseman Bob by Adams at leadoff and first baseman Ted Kluszewski at cleanup.

The Reds and Washington were here today to start an eight-game exhibition series which will take them to eight different cities. Washington won the clubs' only previous encounter this season 6-5.

The Reds' major squad closed shop at Tampa yesterday with a 9-8 victory over the New York Yankees on Kluszewski's two-run ninth inning homer.

Claridon Team Dropped From Morral Event

Further action in the Marion Brick Invitational Cage Tournament is scheduled tonight following Wyandot Vaults, Wyandot Indians and Arlie Glenn Inn victories in tourney action last night.

Wyandot Vaults trimmed Holmes-Liberty Grange 83-75, Wyandot Indians eliminated Marion Brick 77-59 and Arlie Glenn Inn rolled by Claridon 78-55.

Games tonight find Worcester going against Wyandot Vaults in the opener at 6:30 p.m., Wyandot Indians batting Holmes-Liberty Grange in the second game and Arlie Glenn Inn teaming on the loser of the first game in the mishcap.

Kenny Clark with 24 points and M. Last and D. Last, each with 19, paced the Wyandot Indians attack against Marion Brick which had to finish the game with only two players after five fouled out. Gene Craverait hit for 16 while Jerry Higgins accounted for 15 for the losers. A spurt by the winners, who led only 47-45 at the beginning of the final quarter, clinched the victory.

Wyandot Vaults overcame an early defiant to defeat Holmes-Liberty as Weaver pumped in 26 points and Schoeppner added 20. B. Crall had 27 for the losers.

Arlie Glenn Inn, trailing at the first quarter and at halftime, pulled away in the final quarter to post its victory over Claridon. Stackman with 29 points and Kuhn with 25 paced the winners' offense. Linzy Earl had 17 and Art Gruber 10 for Claridon.

Using Television Speeds Enrollment of Students

CHICAGO — (UP) Television was employed at the registration of students at Chicago Teachers College in a way that saved long hours and aided in the signing up of students for classes.

By employing a closed circuit, registration clerks and school officials could see immediately which classes were closed, which had space and just how many students the classes could hold.

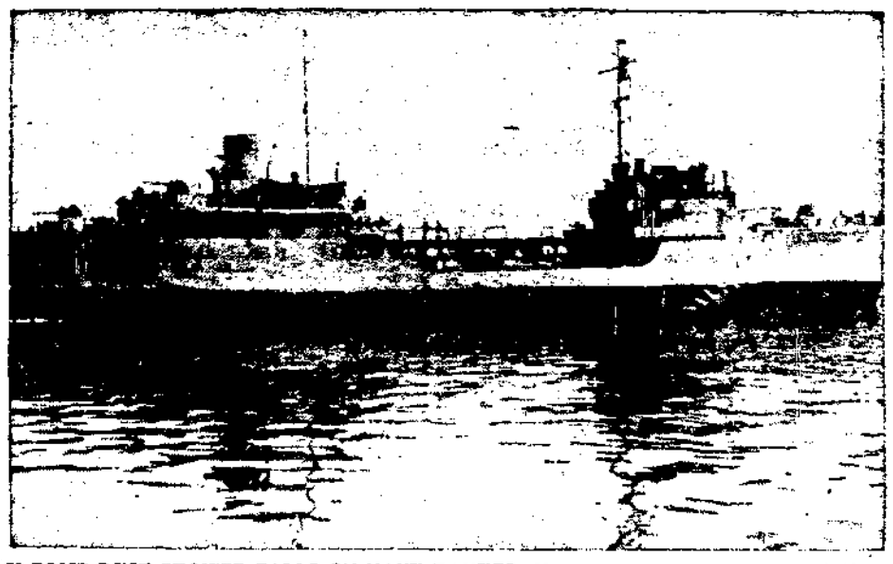
School authorities reported that in previous registrations, students went through the tedious process of filling out cards and in many cases learned by mail the classes were full. This necessitated substituting of classes, dropping of others and much unnecessary paper work.

In the new way, a camera is focused on a bulletin board in the library where class enrollments are tallied and flashed to TV screens in other rooms where the students fill out their programs.

The college also uses closed circuit TV in classroom work where one instructor can give a visual lecture-demonstration to several rooms at the same time.

HE FORGOT

ALTON, N.H. (UP)—State Rep. Llewellyn F. Fernald of Rochester was fined $25 in municipal court on a charge of taking more than one wood duck during a day of hunting. Fernald was chairman of the legislature's fish and game committee in 1949.



H-BOMB DUST SHOWER FALLS ON NAVY TANKER. Navy announcement from Pearl Harbor says that the 4,200-ton tanker Patapsco (above) came under a nuclear dust shower during the mid-Pacific H-bomb tests on March 1, but none of its 92 crewmen received "harmful" burns. The tanker, which returned to Pearl Harbor for "complete decontamination," was part of a task force conducting the hydrogen tests in the Eniwetok-Bikini area.

Wife's Letters Help in Getting Buddies in War Together Again

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Like most war-time buddies, members of the Seventh Bombardment Group lost track of each other after World War II, but more than 300 of them have established contact again as a result of the work of the wife of one of them.

Mrs. Helen Hillsman said it all started about three years ago when her husband, Max, suggested sending "a few Christmas cards to some of my former buddies."

The result was a major letter-writing project that now keeps Mrs. Hillsman busy with a pen in most of her spare time.

Hillsman served with the Seventh Bombardment Group as a sergeant from the time of Pearl Harbor through the long months that the outfit was based first in Australia and then in Java and India. He was sent home in 1944.

"Thirty-seven months is a long time to spend with people," he said. "You can get pretty attached during that time—and then you lose track of each other."

Hillsman brought back only a half a dozen or so home addresses from the Pacific, and it was to those that he and his wife dropped a few lines that Christmas.

"Those we contacted wrote back asking about so - and - so," Mrs. Hillsman said. "They also sent the addresses of some of the other boys in the group, and I sent letters to each of those."

"Now I write on the average of three letters a day—sometimes 25 when I get behind—to more than 300 former group members in every state in the nation and as far as Rio de Janeiro, Japan and Germany," she added.

The Hillsmans are always trying to contact more, remembering how many of the replies to her letters started out with "I thought all of you guys were dead."

One name on her mailing list is that of the group's commanding officer, Col. Wesley Werner, who had been shot down over Burma and at first was reported killed. Mr. and Mrs. Hillsman just happened to be listening to a radio broadcast on which he appeared.

The flow of letters back and forth resulted in a group reunion last August in Bryon National Park, Utah. Forty - three group members plus families showed up.

Hillsman and his wife, who have no children, were "Uncle Max and Aunt Helen" to the youngsters.

"It was just like a bunch of relatives—the kind who get along well—meeting each other for the first time in years," said Mrs. Hillsman.

They have planned another get-together in the summer of next year.

Mrs. Hillsman, who works as a stockroom clerk at Douglas aircraft plant, where her husband is a leadman on an assembly line admitted her mounting correspondence is "getting to be quite a chore." But she thinks they have found a solution in their plans for a monthly magazine. In it, each group member is to take turns telling how he and his family are getting along.

"We should do something," she concluded. "Max would rather do almost anything else than write letters — although he had been known to address a few envelopes."

The day after Vic Raschi was traded, Mrs. Casey Stengel's mink stole was returned, but we can't bring ourself to believe it was part of the deal.

Cultured Cat Prefers Hearing the Classics

POCATELLO, Idaho — (UP) — Cecil Simmons, a music instructor at Idaho State college, owns what he believes to be a cultured cat.

Catherine, a thoroughbred Persian, perches atop his grand piano for as much as six hours a day while he practices, Simmons says.

Her musical tastes seem to lean toward the works of Bach, Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven. When he works on his own compositions—which Simmons admits are a bit dissonant because of their modern trend—Catherine leaps from the piano, pads to the door and waits to be let out.

Landlord Gives Tenants Many Extra Benefits

NEW YORK (UP)—Fred Trump is one landlord who hopes his tenants will remember him fondly and not as the grasping, crabby type of tradition.

"Their reputation isn't deserved," said Trump. "There are plenty of kindly landlords. You just hear about the bad ones."

Trump, a middle - aged fellow who classes as a self-made man, keeps his tenants happy with such extras as summer camps for the children, baby-sitters, bouquets for new mothers and bus service to beaches in summer. In one of his housing developments, there is a school for the younger set.

A combination builder and landlord, Trump's apartment developments in the Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs of New York house about 4,500 families, most of them in middle income groups. He is a native New Yorker who started in the real estate business as a carpenter's helper, going to school nights to learn the building trades.

The school he has provided is in the Brighton project in Brooklyn, for 160 kindergarten and first-grade children. It is an ultra-modern structure fitted snugly in the basement of one of the residence buildings. Trump and the New York Board of Education worked out a deal—he furnishes the facilities, they furnish the teaching staff.

Every Trump housing development provides playgrounds for children. Each has an indoor recreation center also. And his Beachhaven project in Brooklyn has its own teen-ager baseball club, the Beachhaven Royals.

Each development has a shopping center, and the next one Trump builds, in Queens, will have a medical and dental center free to children.

Trump is the first to concede that being a kindly landlord pays off.

"I have a wife and five kids," he said. "So I know about family needs. But I'd be a hypocrite to say that being good to the tenants isn't also good business."

What do the tenants think of their landlord?

Mrs. Robert I. Friedman, mother of two, said, "He gives you a square deal."

In one of his projects, Trump provided an art instructor for those who wanted to paint in their spare time. Last Christmas, they presented Trump with a sample of their work—a portrait of Trump.

He used to present each new tenant with a pair of tickets to a Broadway hit show.

"But I had to stop the practice," said Trump wryly. "When one woman asked me to exchange her tickets to 'The King and I' for a pair to 'Can Can,' I decided things were getting out of hand."

Scientists Say Ancient Copper Theory Wrong

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — (UP) — Modern scientists are short on "copper" about the mysterious methods of the old alchemists. The alchemists proudly claimed they could make copper harder by heating it.

Paul Estes, head of an industrial company's precious metals division, said that if they actually accomplished the feat, the copper couldn't have been as hard as that with which metallurgists work today. So far as the experts know, heating pure copper will soften, not harden it.

Adults Discover Advantages of Membership in 'Y'

700 Have Joined Since New Building Opened; 300 More Sought

Nearly 700 adults have joined the YMCA since it moved into its new home on E. Church St. last October.

This group includes men and women of all ages and with many varied interests. They have joined activities designed especially for men or women or have organized into mixed groups. Many have joined family groups.

ENROLLMENT of 300 more YMCA members, most of them in the adult groups, is the goal of a membership campaign now in progress. The drive opened Friday and will continue until April 2.

The new "Y" operates on an around-the-clock basis — almost constantly busy with instruction classes in hobbies or crafts, physical activities and clubs. And yet, it is a restful place to spend a quiet evening "tinkering."

THE MOST POPULAR of all the facilities is the swimming pool. On the mimeographed YMCA activity schedules aquatics has the heaviest listings. There are swimming periods for boys and girls and men and women, besides family swimming. Instruction is provided for every possible degree of proficiency from beginning to life saving — and you can learn to drive, too.

The "Y" has two gyms and these are wide open to use by members. Well-known are the basketball leagues — just now drawing to a close. But many men and women enjoy volleyball and badminton, or such specialized activities as fitness classes and weight lifting.

MANY PEOPLE join on a social basis for painting, ceramics and woodcraft classes.

They join service clubs which meet at the "Y," such clubs as the Y-Men or 20-30 Club for men and the Graduate Sorority for women. Or, they join others with common interests in such groups as the stamp club.

Here is an example of how one man uses facilities of the "Y." He comes to the YMCA after work on Thursday evenings for organized volleyball games. He follows that with a visit to the health center at 6:15 for a steam bath, massage and shower, and at 7:30 attends a meeting of the stamp club. Another starts the evening the same way but attends the Y Mens Club at 6:15 and meets his wife at 8:30 for square dancing. She comes at seven o'clock for swimming instructions.

THE AVENUES of healthful and wholesome recreation open to adults — and children — in the "Y" are wide The possible combination of exercise, and quiet hobbies are many — and happen every night of the week.

But with all the organized group activities there are many who just "drop in" to work on a hobby in their free time — make a ceramic vase, dabble in water colors — read a magazine, play a game of pool or watch television.

ADMIRING MRS. PEARL HAAS' partially-completed oil painting is Cutler McGrew, 546 Delaware Ave. Both are enrolled in the YMCA painting class which meets Thursday afternoons at 1 p.m. Mrs. L. D. Hamilton of 334 E. Center St., is instructor. Mrs. Haas lives at 142 Union St. The 15-member class is currently painting still lifes in both watercolors and oils.

Physicians Eye Relation Of Noises With Health

CHICAGO—(UP) The American Medical Associations says more should be known about noise.

An editorial in the AMA Journal said that "in view of the problems related to modern industry such a study is now in order."

Some of the relationships between noise and health have been examined. The editorial said, for instance, discontinuous loud mechanical noise and soft music have been found to be more disturbing than continuous loud noise.

In small groups of persons, exposure to noise for several hours may cause uneasiness, headache, tremors, nausea, tenseness or insomnia, the article said.

But a general understanding of the effects of noise on health has not yet been made.

"There are many reports claiming that noise adversely affects public health," the article said, "but the possible relationship between noise and health needs further study."

Answers Given On Occupation Cost in Europe

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP) — An American newspaper here reports that Germans and U. S. soldiers alike apparently don't know who pays the bills for U. S. troops and installations in Germany.

The newspaper, Overseas Weekly, said more than half of the Germans interviewed in a poll believed their tax money goes for salaries of U. S. officers and men.

Likewise, most of the soldiers interviewed did not think the Germans contributed a nickel to the occupation forces or construction of bases and housing.

The actual figures show, Overseas Weekly added, that Germans are contribution $52,000,000 a year.

The questions asked and the correct answers:

1. Where does the money come from to pay salaries of U. S. soldiers and officers in Germany? The U. S. taxpayer.

2. Who pays for gasoline used by the Army in Germany? The U. S. taxpayer.

3. Where does the money come from to pay for Army and Air Force construction projects in Germany, like the air bases behind the Rhine? The German taxpayer.

4. Where does the money come from for food served on U. S. Army mess tables in Germany? The U. S. taxpayer.

5. Where does the money come from to pay salaries of German employees of U. S. Army in Germany? From both U. S. and German taxpayers

6. Does the presence of U. S. troops in Germany cost the German taxpayer anything? Yes. Each year the German government budgets funds that can be spent by U. S. forces for specific items. Cars, cut-rate rail fares, requisitioned housing and other items are subsidized by Germans.

There are six so-called platinum metals, ruthenium being the last to be isolated about a century ago.

YOUNGER COPS

BOSTON (UP) — This city could have 18-year-old policemen if a measure now under consideration were approved by the state legislature. The bill would lower the age limit from 22 to 18 for both policemen and firemen.

Why most Americans stand straighter today

Equitable's President tells a story of self-reliance and how it grows as insurance grows

Nearly 90,000,000 Americans are now protected by life insurance...

A tremendous figure?

Yes. But looking at it another way it is pretty strong evidence that there's a whale of a lot of self-reliance in the make-up of the average American.

He's determined to stand on his own two feet ...to face the future with confidence.

And he's learned that one of the best ways to do it is through insurance.

We are pleased to have helped so many of these Americans stand just a little bit straighter.

The Equitable Society today helps protect over 8,000,000 people—a record number!

To see what lies behind their self-reliance, look at the figures in The Society's Annual Statement shown here.*

While we are the fifth largest corporation in the United States, we're not in business just to publish big figures.

We are in business to help more Americans help themselves to individual security and independence.

To this end we are continually developing new kinds of insurance...using the tool of intensive research to create modern and forward-looking policies.

Recently, for example, we pioneered a new Major Medical Expense Policy. Now we have revised and liberalized it still further. This policy helps protect families against financial disaster resulting from costly or prolonged illness. Its coverage is broadened...its cost is reasonable.

We believe this policy clearly demonstrates how independent citizens, working through a mutual company, can build for themselves the kind of insurance program Americans need.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged a little higher today after surmounting early roughness.

Aircrafts dominated trading with some gains in this division extending to between 3 and 4 points at times. As a general thing few gains got past a point. Losses were small.

At the start the market was mixed as the oils and railroads dragged along. Later these two divisions perked up a bit, and the entire market took on a higher look.

Also higher were the steels, some motors, radio-televisions, motion pictures, many chemicals, electrical equipments, and the utilities.

22 SHERIFFS BRUSH UP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Stark County Sheriff Harry Grossnickle president of the Buckeye Sheriffs Assn. says 22 sheriffs are among officers from 45 Ohio counties taking a course from FBI instructors in Columbus.

'NO EXTENSION'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Registrar R. E. Foley warns there are only two days left for some 650 000 Ohio motorists to get their new license plates. Foley says there will be "absolutely no extension of the April 1 deadline."

Machine Helps Develop Men's Reading Speeds

ITHACA, N.Y. — (UP) — Machines have replaced the old school primer for teaching reading speed to business executives who take special courses at Cornell University.

A "reading accelerator" is used to force speed. "It prevents the reader from going back over material and promote a reading rhythm." Techniques of skimming are taught which allow the executive quickly to get information from the mass of paper which comes to his desk daily.

Many of the student businessmen have increased their reading speed by 105 words a minute. One executive said his reading speed saved his company $30 a day by allowing him time for other work.

ANY IDEAS?

WILDWOOD, N. J. (UP) — This resort town is willing to pay thousands of dollars for a device that can effectively keep its beach clean. Joseph Chambers, superintendent of beach cleaners, said it costs $10 000 annually to have men pick up papers discarded by bathers. He said 460 truck loads were removed from the beach last summer.

EXPENSIVE ODOR

ROCKVILLE, Conn. (UP)—Residents in the neighborhood of a mink farm brought the owner into court. The odor from the farm, he neighbors charged, was too much.

WITNESS CLAIMS FIFTH AMENDMENT. Mrs. Mary Himoff Neff of Chicago claims the fifth amendment on the witness stand before House Un-American Activities committee in Washington refusing to reply to questions about testimony of previous witnesses in the case of The Rev. John Hutchison Williams, College religion professor. She refused to say if she recalled a meeting between Hutchison and others at Communist party headquarters in Baltimore in 1936. Beside her is Attorney J. Forer.

'Flying Boxcar' Crashes Into Army Dining Hall

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—A C119 Flying Boxcar crashed into a mess hall at this Army post today.

The Public Information Office adjacent Pope Air Force Base reported the plane carried nine men. It could not give an immediate report on casualties.

The PIO said the plane, based at Sewart Air Force Base, Tenn., had just taken off from Pope bound for Louisville, Ky.

New Ford Plant

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ford Motor Co. said today it had opened a personnel office for a stamping plant under construction at nearby Walnut Hills.

A Ford spokesman said the company was only taking applications now and "sounding" the situation.

Eventually the plant which will have nearly a million square feet of floor space could employ some 3 000 persons. The plant 25 per cent complete is expected to be in partial operation by October.

LEGAL NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Hospital Commissioners at the office of E. L. Mitchell, Secretary, City Building in Marion, Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon Eastern Standard Time of Tuesday, the 3rd day of May, 1954, for drapery, institutional furniture, kitchen equipment and furniture furnishings for the Marion General Hospital.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed with the name of the bidder and the class of equipment covered by the bid.

Bids will be publicly opened and read aloud at 12 o'clock P.M. EST of the 3rd day of May, 1954 at the City Building in Marion, Ohio.

Copies of the specifications and other proposed contract documents are on file and open to public inspection at the Secretary's office, City Building in Marion, Ohio.

One set of contract documents for furniture, oxygen equipment and furniture furnishings may be obtained with out charge by each prospective bidder from E. L. Mitchell, Secretary.

Contract documents (drawings and specifications for Group VIII) (curtains only) may be obtained from D. A. Carmichael & East Long Street, Columbus, Ohio. A deposit of $10.00 is required for each set. If the contractor returns said documents and the deposit of the first set is refundable in full and any additional sets he may have required are refunded at $10.00 per set. If the contractor does not bid he forfeits his deposit for all sets.

Each bid is all to accompanied with a bond executed by a surety company authorized that if the contract be awarded on the bid tendered then such bidder shall secure any difference between the amount of such bid and the next higher bid as required by Section 339.12 of the Revised Code of the State of Ohio in case of the failure or refusal of the bidder to enter into a contract according to his bid within such reasonable time as the Board may determine. The performance of each contract shall be secured by a surety company contract bond approved by the Owner in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of 30 days after the opening thereof.

The right is reserved by the Board of Hospital Commissioners to reject any or all proposals.

DOES your car have these safety features . . . four-wheel hydraulic brakes with separate mechanical brake for emergency in case of hydraulic brake failure? Does it have step-down design with mono-built body and frame giving low center of gravity and 25 to 90% less rattles than other cars? If you can't answer yes you don't have a Hudson with the step-down safety features. Come out and see the long-lifed "48 to 53" Hudsons we have for sale. STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

YOU HEAR AN AIRPLANE?
YEAH—I WOULDN'T MIND HAVIN ME A BERTH AS MAYBE A STEWARD ON ONE OF THOSE OVERSEAS LINES!
NOT ME! I HAD AN OVERWATER RIDE IN A TRANSPORT DURING THE WAR TOO MANY PEOPLE STOWED IN THAT LITTLE TUBE!
AIRLINE BUSINESS MUST REALLY BE GOOD OUT HERE! LOOK—IS THAT WHAT THEY DO WITH STAND-BY PASSENGERS?
SPARKS! RAISE THE NAVY AIR PATROL STATION ON HISTO ISLAND! THERE'S A PLANE OVERHEAD TOWING TWO PEOPLE!
I KNEW THOSE PAPER BOUND BOOKS YOU READ WOULD FINALLY BREAK YOUR MIND!

French People Await Release Of Dictionaries

PARIS (UP) — Precise Frenchmen who boast that they have the world's most subtly accurate language have a new dictionary to help them out of verbal quandaries.

But words, arguments will have to be confined for the present to the letters AAA to CCC because that is the limited extent of the first 1,100-page volume which retails for $22.

The complete set which should carry enough sheer weight to stun any expert will retail for $52.

With the complete French vocabulary running between 40,000 and 50,000 words—covering everything from the most exquisitely delicate compliments to the most annoyingly precise insults—French scholars have long lacked a dictionary comprehensively comparable to the American Webster or the British Oxford.

Crochety Emile Littre, the French equivalent of America's Noah Webster and Britain's Dr. Samuel Johnson, gave Frenchmen a monstrously great dictionary between 1848 and 1872 which has long since fallen behind the verbal times.

The new work which has kept scholar Paul Robert's nose to the semantic grindstone for several years updates Littre's efforts with a precision that should help keep combative experts out of future cafe scuffles over finite and infinite word definitions.

The irate Gaul who wants to tell a woman to get out of his life will be able to do so quite authoritatively with the aid of three pages—illustrated by 116 pertinent quotations—devoted to the verb aller (to go).

Should he however be seeking happily felicitous phrases of praise he will find that Robert has provided him with three pages—using 120 flattering quotations—on the adjective beau (fine, pretty, beautiful).

NL HITTERS WERE SLUGGERS

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League sluggers had potent bats in 1953. They set a major league record of 1,197 home runs for one season. And for the first time in major league history four players in one league hit 40 or more homers. The four were Ed Mathews (47), Duke Snider of Brooklyn (42), Roy Campanella of Brooklyn (41) and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati (40).

Marionite Is Enthusiastic Over Alaska

R. F. Williams Discovers Opportunities of Land On Church Visit

By ELAINE BALLINGER

"Enthusiastic" is the word which will best describe the reaction of Robert F. Williams to the challenge of Alaska as a land of "great opportunity."

After seeing the possibilities of the territory which he emphatically endorses for statehood, Mr. Williams, Marion businessman and active Methodist layman, returned recently from his visit there as a member of a 20-man Christian "invasion" team. A member of Epworth Methodist Church here, he was appointed by the denomination to serve with the group of ministers forming an evangelism crusade party in behalf of the church in Alaska during February. His assignment was to Juneau, the capital city, a modern town of 8,000 people. It is located in the southeastern coastal section, opposite British Columbia in Canada and about 1,000 miles northwest of Seattle.

ALASKA CITIZENS, Mr. Williams found to be the friendliest of people. Most of the 150,000 residents in the 20 or 22 cities of the territory are from the United Sates originally, and they are greatly pleased to see visitors from "home." All the caller has to do is knock, and the answer immediately is "Come in," no questions asked, he said.

The remaining 30,000 of the population throughout the country includes Indians and Eskimos. In southeastern Alaska the Tlinket Indians form the native sector of the area. Mr. Williams brought back samples of their work, moccasins, miniature totem poles, and other mementoes.

In fairness to the people, Alaska should have statehood, Mr. Williams believes. All lands outside the corporate cities and villages is under control of the United States, federal government. This land is rich with natural resources, oil, lumber, minerals, and others, from which the people should have the benefits, he stated.

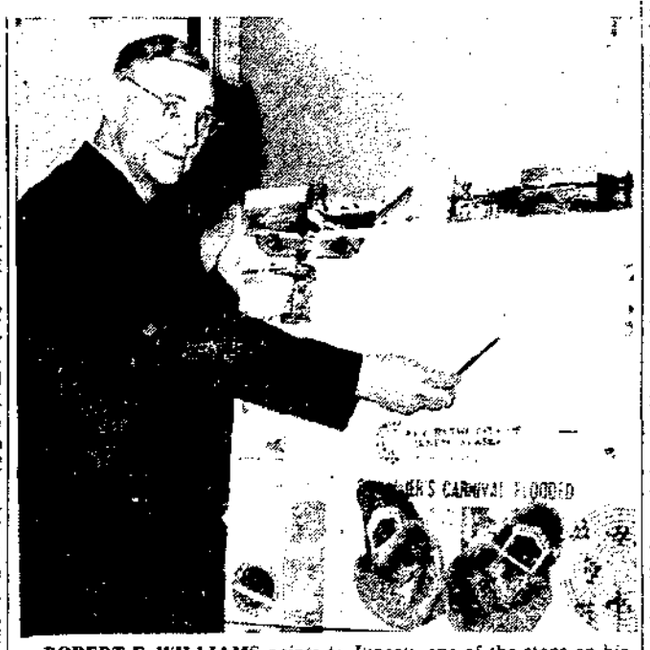
REPEATEDLY, the statement was made to the visitors that "Give us five years as a state and we will surpass any other state in the union" in productiveness, in prosperity, in population, and in all other aspects. Alaska is twice the size of Texas.

Only man from Ohio to be included in the group of visiting churchmen, Mr. Williams feels honored to have been chosen to work in the capital city. His "teammate" was Rev. Hanford Closson of Rochester, N.Y. They were guests of Rev. Fred McGinnis, pastor of First Methodist Church in Juneau and district superintendent of missionaries in the territory. Their headquarters was the parsonage where on Sunday mornings Sunday School classes meet. The churches of Alaska are small because many people, going there for short periods of time, do not bring their membership from their churches at home. There are about 20 churches of different denominations in Juneau.



ROBERT F. WILLIAMS points to Juneau, one of the stops on his recent trip to Alaska. The map, consisting of souvenirs from the trip, includes a totem pole and sealskin shoes, made by Alaskan Indians; a key to Juneau given by the mayor; a mat made by Eskimos; and postcards. Williams was a member of a mission to encourage church attendance in Alaska.

IN THE VISITATION evangelism program, the churchmen urged attendance at services at the "church of your choice." The principal object was to stimulate the people to renew their interest in values emphasized by the church and to support the church in their adopted home by joining it. All the problems of frontier cities are present as distracting influences, it was pointed out.

In their house-to-house visits the callers were never turned away at any place by the residents, no matter what religious faiths, Mr. Williams said. Meeting at the church at 6:30 each night they would start out on their rounds at 7.

Though progress of the church has lagged behind in Alaska, and there is much to be done in church work there, the people seemed glad to be contacted in the interest of religion, a fact displayed in their generous response by way of hospitality. The team from the church was entertained so well that there were even invitations to breakfast.

IN MANY SMALLER places the visitor will be surprised to find the First Methodist Church of Seldovia, or the Moose Pass Methodist Church, or the Clover Pass Methodist Church to be station wagons, with the names painted on the side!

Lacking church buildings in smaller places, congregations center about these "mobile units" and meet in the homes, and the pastors "take the church to the people," working down along the Alaska peninsula.

In general, Rev. P. Gordon Gould, superintendent of Methodist work in the territory, was pleased with visible results of the efforts of this latest evangelistic crusade, Mr. Williams said.

After 10 days at Juneau, Mr. Williams and Rev. Closson joined the other members of the crusade at Anchorage, about 800 miles northwest of Juneau to make reports. The briefing before reaching Alaska was at Seattle, Wash. The trips to the territory and back and during the stay were made by air.

Although the people have their automobiles, about 1,200 in Juneau, use of this means of transportation is limited, because, 40 miles is the farthest distance from Juneau that roads can be traveled, and similar situations exist elsewhere as well. "Go 40 miles away, and you meet up with mountains," Mr. Williams says. The cities have their buses, their parking meters, paved streets, and other motor conveniences, but only means of reaching places from the outside is by air or by passenger boats in the spring along the coast. A number of individuals own their own planes. Inland there is a railroad, and of course the Alcan Highway.

THE POPULATION of Alaska is young. Average age of the white people is between 20 and 39. This fact is reflected in the low death rate. A funeral is a rare occurrence.

Three things bring people to the territory, assignment there by the government or by the armed forces, the hunt for gold or adventure, as in the old days, and the chance to take advantage of the wide-open opportunities offered for the future.

Hospital, clinic, and other medical facilites are of the best, and schools are good. There are 22,000 children in school, and 1,065 teachers are employed. Racial segregation is not practiced. Wherever there are five children who can come together for study, a teacher is provided by the government. Others in isolated spots are taught by correspondence.

The Eskimo population is not numerous. Families have three homes and move with the seasons, settling for a time when there is fishing, and going to hunting grounds when seal and walrus or polar bear are available. A privileged resident of the region, the Eskimo may hunt or fish anywhere without special permit by the government. For others there are regulated fishing and hunting seasons.

JUNEAU HAS a storage plant for canned shrimp, and ships are loaded with shrimp and crabmeat for transport to Seattle. The crab there is small, but tasty, Mr. Williams said.

A large industry revolves around the taking of king salmon for market in the East. An unusual industry of the territory is the marketing of glacial ice, a very hard ice which is prized in the U.S. by places of entertainment for cooling drinks.

It is paradoxical that heating is done with oil shipped in from California. The fuel is stored in large tanks. Cooking is done by electricity, and hydro-electric power is abundant and reasonable in price.

Besides the ranking industry of fishing, lumbering is of importance, with a billion feet of lumber sent yearly to Seattle for houses. Pulpwood industry is developing. Forests grow profusely because of the moisture which averaged in the territory 300 inches last year.

The mountains from the coast up are covered with forest, and there are millions of acres of fern and heavy moss. Forest fires are unknown because of the moisture held by the covering of the forest floors.

ATOP THE MOUNTAINS, the greenish-blue ice of the glaciers is visible for miles. The ice in the snow-built glaciers is extremely hard because of great pressure of freezing. The growing season in the valleys when warmer temperatures prevail brings an abundance of garden vegetables, fruits and berries. Cranberries, huckleberries, blueberries and cloudberries, which Mr. Williams describes as being "like white currants," are used for jams and jellies in which the housewives take pride.

Mr. Williams saw pussywillow blooming at 16 degrees below zero. The temperature was usually about 18 degrees below, and never higher than 8 below. The cold is not as noticeable as the penetrating damp coldness of this climate, he said.

Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Gets Okay On Rate Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission yesterday authorized the Ohio Fuel Gas Co of Columbus, Ohio to put into effect as of March 1 a $1 031,500 natural gas rate increase for its wholesale customers

Ohio Fuel, which asked $1 419 000 originally, serves 25 wholesale customers Principal ones are the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co, and the Dayton Power and Light Co

The rate increase is subject to refund of any amounts later disallowed, the commission said Ohio Fuel a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas system was one of four companies permitted increases in wholesale rates

The commission said it also is allowing two of the Columbia companies, including Ohio Fuel, to substitute reduced proposals Ohio Fuel filed its substitute proposal to pass along savings expected on purchases from United Fuel, also a Columbia subsidiary

In another order, the commission set oral argument here April 19 on two other Ohio Fuel increases totaling $3 470 000 which are already in effect under bond and subject to refund The commission said it would decide that case directly without having an examiners decision

Tests Awaited With High Hope

New Vaccine Could Spell End of Polio

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—The next six months can spell the absolute end of polio, if all goes well.

The weapon is a polio vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk and associates of the University of Pittsburgh.

By present scientific evidence, it should protect children against the vicious polio virus. There is even reason to believe that a few shots of the vaccine can give lifetime protection.

At the moment, the vaccine is like a new type of airplane. The engineers are pretty sure it will fly and perform as expected. But the acid test is to fly it.

So an army of half a million to a million little children will step forward soon to take trial shots. After summer's end it can be learned whether the vaccine really defends them against polio and paralysis.

If it passes this critical test, then all the nation's 46 million children could start getting it next year. In a few years, no one would need be vulnerable to polio.

All this is just a promise. But it is based upon all the scientific facts known now about polio. This vaccine could fail. If it does, there are prospects for still other vaccines, perhaps better ones.

The vaccine story is simple, in retrospect—just as the solution of a detective mystery is simple, in retrospect.

Dr. Salk's vaccine is made of dead virus, using all three types of virus which can cause human paralysis.

It is safe, because dead virus cannot cause polio. But the dead virus can still creat defenses against live, dangerous virus.

The reason for believing the vaccine will work is easy—antibodies.

Antibodies are nature's policemen. They are tiny protein particles, circulating in the blood, which can combine with and disarm an invading germ or virus.

When some germ attacks you, your body starts making antibodies against it. If you make enough antibodies soon enough, you win the battle. If you don't, you become ill and sometimes die.

Once you have made antibodies, you usually keep them. You have your antibody factories all set up, ready to go to work at a moment's notice. The antobodies against one kind of germ or virus work only against that specific disease agent.

Houston Police Officer Calls on Force for Help

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Homicide Lt L. L. Watts asked police for help today.

Last week Watts found a fountain pen at his home and presumed he had absent-mindedly picked it up at his police headquarters office.

A note on the homicide bulletin board failed to ifnd an owner.

Watts, meanwhile, left the pen on his desk and it disappeared.

He added this note today to the bulletin board:

"Here is the sad situation: I have learned thus pen belongs to my wife's sister. I need to recover it. If you can help me, I would certainly appreciate it."

Officers of the company are: chairman of the board and general manager, E. C. Gledhill; president, William Gledhill; executive vice president and treasurer, Robert M. Corry; secretary, R. M. Black.

Clean Carpets Like Playing Shuffleboard

What is believed to be the greatest scientific advancement in home carpet cleaning is being marketed under the name of Blue Lustre. All you do is vacuum carpet, apply Blue Lustre foam with long handle brush applicator (it's as easy as playing shuffleboard), let dry and vacuum. The results are amazing. We are proud to be among the nation's first stores to offer Blue Lustre. Uhler's third floor.

Japs Dismiss Charges Against U.S. Housewife

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Japanese authorities yesterday dismissed charges against an American housewife accused of negligence in a fire which burned down her rented Japanese house.

Mrs. Antionie Pierre, wife of W. O. Morian Pierre Jr., Gary, Ind., was the first American military dependent to be charged under Japanese law since the new jurisdiction pact went into effect last November.

Before that, American military personnel and dependents in Japan could be tried only by American authorities.

The ruling that the case was a civil rather than criminal matter would permit the landlady to file civil suit for damages.

Dallas Youth Convicted Of Murder, Gets Chair

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Tommy Lee Walker, 19-year-old Negro youth, faced death in the electric chair today for the murder of Mrs. H.C. Parker, pretty young dime store clerk.

Walker was convicted of murder with malice last night by a District Court jury, which deliberated about an hour and a half.

Mrs. Parker's slaying last Sept. 30 climaxed a series of rapes, attempted rapes, and reports of a nude prowler in various sections of Dallas. A post-mortem indicated she had been raped on the night her slayer stabbed her in the throat. Walker denied any connection with the crime at the trial.

In Leopoldville, capital of the Belgian Congo, the aboriginal population has increased from 30,000 in 1939 to 200,000 today.

More Men Aid Housewives in Jobs at Home

NEW YORK (UP)—The nation's men are becoming better homemakers every year.

Pop these days does as much basket-pushing at the supermarket as the missus. He has a say in whether the living room couch need a new cover, and if it does, helps to select it. He reads the advertisements for household equipment and Mom doesn't buy a new vacumm cleaner without his approval After all, he too will use it.

Even when he leaves his own apparel buying to her, she probably seeks brands he's mentioned before she heads for the store.

Man's ever - increasing role in home-making is cited by Florence Skelly, consumer research association with Stewart, Dougall and Associates, Inc., a management consultant organization.

"My own husband is a better cook than I am, and loves the kitchen," she said, ruefully. "He does all the grocery marketing."

But the men aren't becoming hen-pecked

Miss Skelly, who in private life is Mrs. Eugene Altman, said men are sharing more in running the home for one major reason—more married women than ever before hold outside jobs.

"It's only logical that the husband will help in the house if the wife contributes to the family income," she said.

"Advertisers are increasingly aware of this. You'll notice they make a sales pitch to the men also."

"Her company talks to between 30,000 and 40,000 person annually, in all wage brackets, all age groups and in all parts of the nation. The purpose: To check present buying habits and reactions to proposed new products

She's surveyed the buying potential of everything from garbage dispoal units to bubble gum.

"One of the funniest answers we ever got to a questionnaire came from a rural housewife who'd been asked if she'd like to own a garbage dispoal unit," said Miss Skelly.

The woman answered, "We have a dispoal unit at our dispoal. A pen full of pigs."

The consumer expert pooh-poohs the popular idea that most women are scatter-brained buyers.

"The woman of today is a sophisticated shopper," she said. "She asks questions . . . knows what she wants and how much she will spend."

"Right now, a woman is a better shopper than a man . . . but give the men time. Buying skill is not a matter of genetics, it's a matter of experience."

The impulse buyer still is around, hoever.

"She's the one who will succomb to a frilly nightgown or a bottle of perfume," Miss Skelly said. "These are the luxury items ..that's why their wrappings and display must have appeal."

Also still around is the consumer who buys to keep up with the Joneses.

"Used to be a car was a prestige item," she said. "Now, though, just about everybody has a car. Keeping up with the neighbors these days calls for a cabin cruiser . . . or a trip to Europe. Even a mink coat has slipped in prestige. Now, a woman will ask how it wears."

6 Safe After Plane Crashes at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —A privately owned DC3 airplane cartwheeled as it touched down at the Akron-Canton Airport yesterday and broke in half. Seconds before the craft exploded, the six persons aboard crawled through the wreckage to safety.

The plane's pilot, Burr E. Hall, 41, of San Leandro, Calif., who escaped through the frame of jettisoned windsheild, said he was preparing for an instrument landing when the plane's right wing dipped and hit a rise in the ground.

The wing ripped free and the airplane's two engines dropped out while it flipped over onto the flat land of the airport

Owned by the Pacific Lumber Co. of Oakland, Calif., the plane had taken off from La Guardia Field, New York

Except for cuts and bruises, no one aboard was injured.

Cleveland Pastor To Be Speaker at Midweek Service

Rev. Virgil C Jump of Cleveland will be the guest speaker Wednesday night at the midweek Lenten service of Epworth Methodist Church here. He is pastor of Christ Methodist Church, second largest church in point of membership in Cleveland.

Born on the farm where his great-great-grandfather settled in Crawford County, he was graduated from Sycamore High School in Wyandot County, then was graduated from Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea, and Boston University School of Theology.

Since graduation from seminary in 1929, he has served churches in the North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church During World War II, he was Noble County's national war fund chairman and Red Cross campaign fund chairman and was given a citation by the National Red Cross Active in civic interests, he helped organize the first Community Chest in Barnesville while pastor there, and he managed the temperance campaign which voted the city dry. He was on the committee that organized the Glenville Community Council in Cleveland which began the Community Council plan in that city.

Since he became pastor of Christ Church nearly four years ago, more than 600 new members have been received, and the church has undertaken a $400,050 building program.

Meeker Dog Needs Only 5 Shows To Get Championship

A nine-month-old Marion County Shetland Sheep dog has marked up an unusual record by becoming champion after appearing in five straight dog shows

The dog, owned by Earl Rhoads of near Meeker, a member of the Marion Kennel Club, is named Emeral's Ace's Tippy of Tara.

It first appeared in the Marion Kennel Club show and was selected Best of Breed on Jan. 31.

Less than a month later "Tippy" won a similar ribbon at a show in Canton on Feb. 14

The next win came on Feb. 28 at the Cleveland show where Tippy competed with 107 other Shetland Sheep Dogs to win the best of winners' ribbon

At Detroit on March 6 and 7 the dog picked up another best of breed ribbon and placed fourth in the working group

Final triumph came March 21 in Hodgensville, Ky. when "Tippy" won another best of breed ribbon and ran his total points up to 15—the amount necessary to be declared a champion.

THE NEW LINCOLN FOR '54

You'll never be satisfied with old-fashioned driving

One drive in the new Lincoln for 1954 will show you the big change that has come to motoring.

Gone is the ride that sways on the slightest curve. Gone is the bulging hood, the swollen fenders which make parking a chore. Instead you have greater control and superb performance.

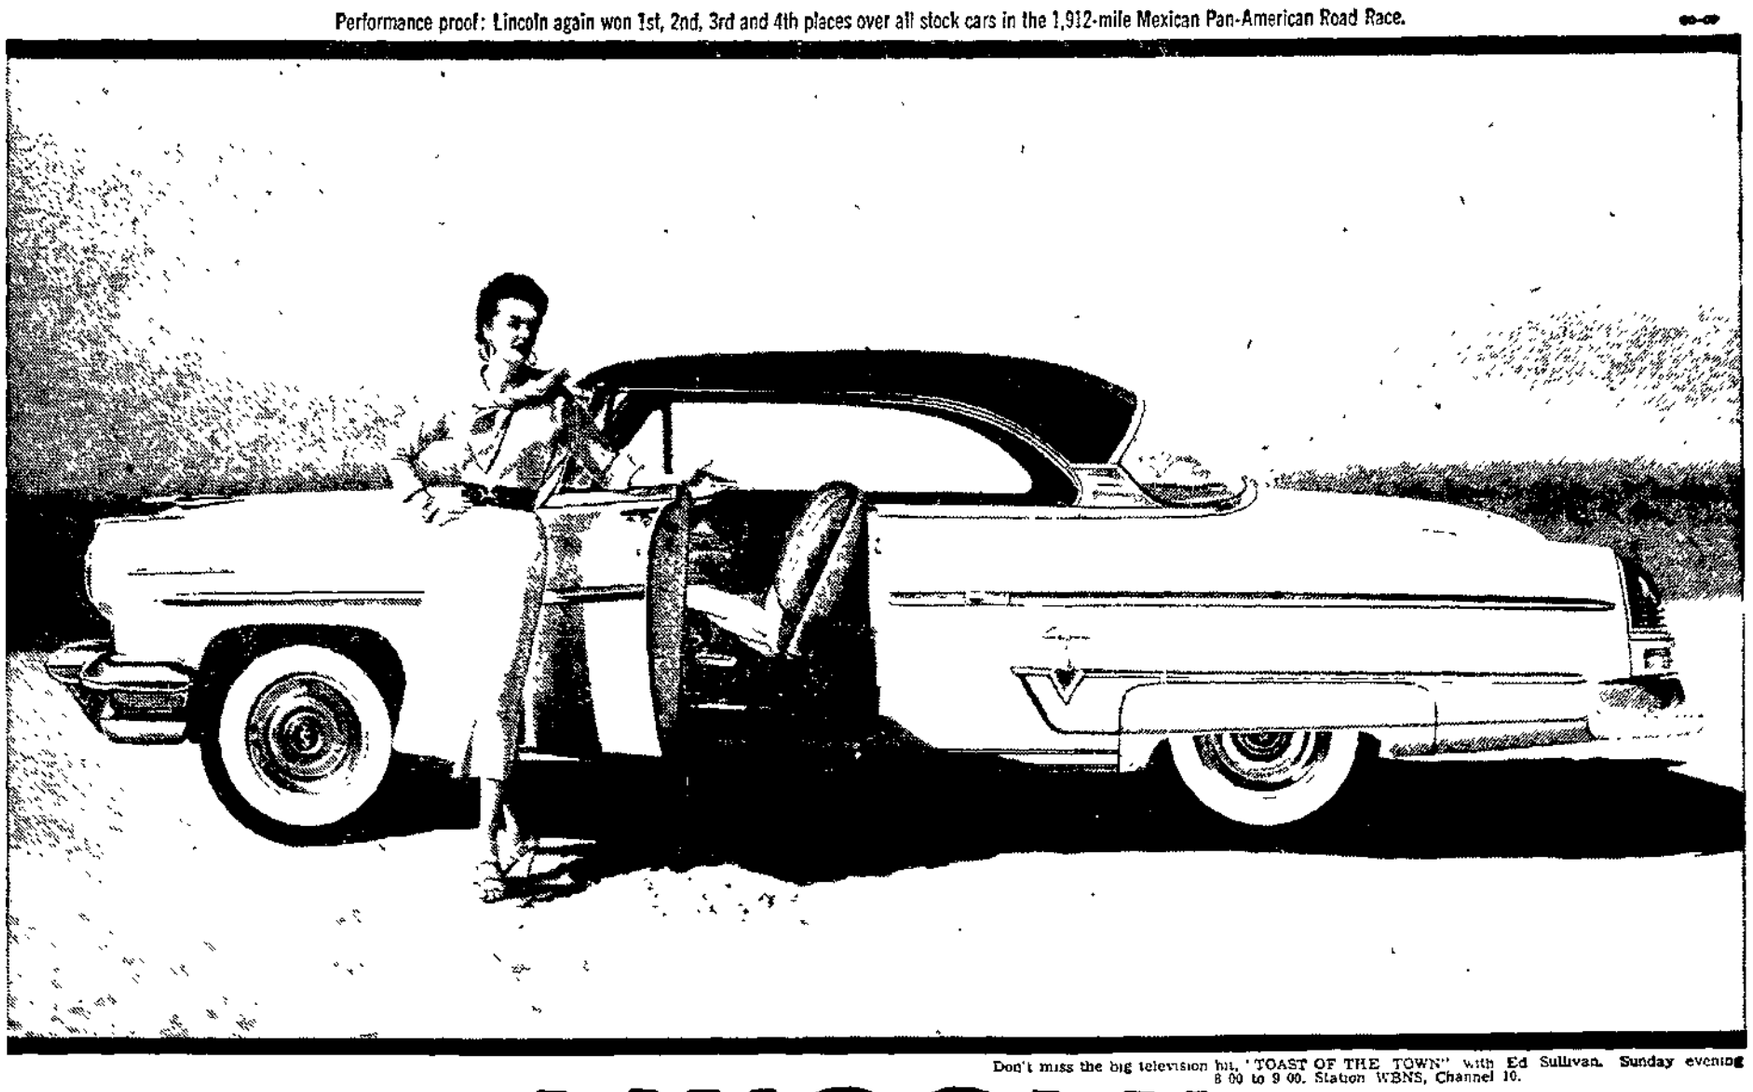
The new Lincoln has been built from the wheels up, from taillights to front grille, in a different way. It takes its functional lines from the new look of modern design; its colors and fabrics from the newest trends in home decoration. When you put this new look in motoring in motion you discover an amazing difference:

First, there's supreme comfort. Even around curves you ride with cushioned ease and far less sway because of ball-joint front wheel suspension, exclusive with Lincoln among America's fine cars.

Then you'll find new liveliness in the new Lincoln. Its V-8 engine is more efficient than ever! And the new 4-barrel carburetor makes Lincoln's superb performance even smoother, more responsive.

Won't you come in, see and try the Lincoln or Lincoln Capri. In our opinion, you'll never be satisfied with old-fashioned driving again.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.



Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening 8:00 to 9:00. Station WBNS, Channel 10.

Oldest War

If any doubt still remained that the United States has committed itself to the pacification of Indochina, Secretary of State Dulles removed it with his policy statement Monday night.

The trouble that began to brew before the end of World War II in this remote corner of the French empire has been fertile ground for the Communist conspiracy. In 1945 the principal problem of liquidating the war effort in Indochina was how to get rid of the Chinese who had moved in to oust the marauding Japanese.

China was a major power in the Allied war effort in 1945. Today, a far stronger power than it was then, China is a major power in the Communist bloc. It is helping the anti-French forces in Indochina. These forces are within reach of a victory which would give them control of Indochina, Siam, Burma, the Malay States—and control over some of the world's richest natural resources in one of the world's most important peninsulas.

The first violent fighting in Indochina began late in 1946. Early that year, France recognized the Viet Nam Republic of Annamese Nationalists as a free state within the Indochinese Federation and French Union. This did not pacify the rebels.

In 1948, France recognized an anti-Communist provisional government of Viet Nam as a member state of the French Union. Cambodia and Laos, both constitutional monarchies, are the other two states of the so-called Indochinese Associated States.

France has maintained an expeditionary force in Indochina since 1945, making this the oldest war still being fought in the modern world.

Exhibit 2: Versatility of Women

In the financial news we learn that Robert R. Young is strengthening his hand in the fight to control the New York Central Railroad Co. with a promise to add a woman to his board of directors if he succeeds.

His first choice would be Lila Bell Acheson Wallace, co-editor and co-owner of The Reader's Digest. Mrs. Wallace agrees with Mr. Young that the New York Central needs a woman's touch. "Everything needs a woman's touch," she says.

In New Orleans, Charlotte and Richmond, for example, the city fathers have added a woman's touch to their traffic police. Also in Seattle, Evansville and Phoenix drivers no longer goggle at the sight of a women traffic cop in their rear-vision mirrors.

There is nothing women can't do if the artificial barriers were torn down.

The versatility of women in performing the world's work is endless.

We remember when many American farm women still worked alongside men and horses in the fields, the way it always had been done in the old country.

It took a long time to erect and tear down some of the barriers which economic necessity, in one form or another, may cause to be erected again.

Honesty Is the Best Politics

The most important experiment in agriculture at the moment is Agriculture Secretary Benson's reliance on intellectual honesty.

His honesty was on display again in this week's "Meet The Press" program. In the course of telling why farmers ultimately had to get fair prices in the market place, not from government, he said he thought truth always was the best politics in the long run.

Farmers, he pointed out, always reach the right decisions when they have the facts. They can understand, therefore, why something must be done about a price-support program which keeps piling up surpluses in warehouses instead of putting more food on American tables.

Secretary Benson is the prime target for the political sniping which traditionally goes with agricultural politics. He has kept his humor and his poise, so far. He is doing what he believes to be right, regardless of whether or not it promises to be politically popular.

Benson's belief that the only good politics in the long run is integrity could clean up the mess in Washington if it is sustained.

Too Much To Chew

Twice in one week the Ohio Supreme Court has added a case to its docket arising from the Ohio Turnpike Commission's credo that it is monarch of all it surveys.

Besides the Elyria case, in which the commission decided it needed a corner of Elyria, especially a bridge site, the Supreme Court now has a Turnpike Commission signboard case.

Much as newspapers dislike the overworked practice of uglifying the countryside with outdoor advertising, it just does not make sense that the Ohio Turnpike Commission can ban all signboards visible from its right-of-way.

If the commissioners will think it over they will realize they have bitten off more than they can chew. A signboard is a signboard; no exceptions.

Radical Subterfuge

Drive for Power Disguised as McCarthy Issue

What, really, is back of the fight being waged so furiously nowadays against Sen. McCarthy?

The motives and purposes of those who are conducting the attack are not easily discerned. This is because many well-meaning legislators and numerous other Americans wholly disconnected from the political scene are being duped into attaching an exaggerated importance to personalities while failing to examine the real issues underlying the controversy over communistic influence in America.

The well-organized effort to destroy the man who has been in the forefront of the battle against Communists in government and communistic influence in the making of American foreign policy cannot be explained away as simply a justified reaction or protest against the "methods" of a United States senator growing out of his brusque manner of handling witnesses or his flair for getting his name in the headlines.

ALL SUCH OBJECTIONS put together cannot explain it, because most of them are in direct conflict with what was being said by some of the same groups and their spokesmen when similar "methods" were used in congressional hearings in the past and when various chairmen of investigating committees of Congress, equally brusque, had the limelight during the last 50 years.

It was Felix Frankfurter, now a Supreme Court justice but then a professor of law and sometimes referred to as the "Senior Saint of Liberalism," who derided the objections of conservatives to what they regarded as violations of privacy by congressional committee investigations. In an article contributed to "The New Republic," a "liberal" magazine, on May 21, 1924, he wrote:

"The question is now whether people's feelings here and there may be hurt or names 'dragged through the mud,' as it is called . . . Critics, who have nothing to say for the astonishing corruption and corrupting soil which have been brought to light, seek to divert attention and shackle the future by suggesting restrictions in the procedure of future congressional investigations."

Much has been said lately about how the cross-examination of Brig. Gen. Zwicker by McCarthy delivered a body blow at the "morale of the Army"—as if this was the basic reason for the intensity of the more recent criticism of the "methods" of congressional committees.

SOME OF THE SAME critics, notably Adlai Stevenson and most of the Democrats in Congress were strangely silent about "Army morale," and, in fact, there was wide applause from the "liberals" both here and abroad, when President Truman, after the Red Chinese intervened in Korea, refused to accept the unanimous advice of his own Joint Chiefs of Staff as well as the Far Eastern commander, Gen. MacArthur, to use air power against the enemy's bases in Manchuria.

Truman yielded to the objections of the "left-wing" politicians in the Labor government in London. Nothing hurts an Army's morale more than to be ordered to fight on with its hands tied behind its back.

Where, moreover, were the defenders of the "Army morale" when Gen. Van Fleet charged and a congressional committee later reported that an adequate supply of ammunition had been witheld from our troops during the fighting in Korea? To this day the culpability of the Army's officials in Washington for this scandal has never been fully investigated.

Where also were the present-day defenders of "Army morale" and the critics of "methods" and procedures in government when Gen. MacArthur—a veteran of two world wars and the Korean War, who wears a breastful of decorations for distinguished service and heroism—was "browbeaten and "humiliated" before the whole world as President Truman summarily dismissed him from active duty?

This general was not even granted the courtesy of a summons to Washington or a hearing to present his side of the case or an opportunity to face his accusers, inside or outside the Army, before being dishonorably ejected from all his commands with a blunt telegram that was broadcast by radio before the general himself received it. No castigation of Truman "methods" came from the "liberals" then.

CERTAINLY McCARTHY made a mistake when he lost his temper at a hearing and blurted out his condemnation of the Army general who he thought was being an evasive and uncooperative witness. But certainly no American lives were lost as a consequence of this outburst of opinion while the casualties of the Truman "methods" run well into the thousands as the bereaved relatives of many American citizens can testify.

Gen. Zwicker has been widely defended as merely carrying out orders when he failed to register any protest against giving a certificate of honor to an Army major who in sworn testimony, available to the Army previously through the FBI, had been known as an active Communist.

Will it be contended now by the same critics that the Allies were wrong when, after the Nuremberg trials, they decreed the execution of the Nazi generals who claimed that all they did was to carry out orders given them by their superiors?

Are American Army generals nowadays not permitted to express their views at all to their superiors?

If concern for the "morale of the Army" was truly uppermost why did it take the form of a sudden decision in the office of the secretary of the Army to issue a document attempting to smear staff members of a Senate subcommittee which had been investigating the Army for several weeks before? Are these the Army's "methods" of defending itself before Congress?

Naturally the persons on the Senate subcommittee who were attacked fought back and now the Republicans have on their hands a "mess" which some of the Democrats want investigated thoroughly, but in the end it will be revealed that some of the Truman holdovers had a large part in flinging the Army document into the fray.

THE DRIVE to "get McCarthy" is actually a drive to "get" the whole Eisenhower administration by gradual steps. The first step is to kill off the Communist issue on which the Roosevelt-Truman record of 20 years is very vulnerable, and the second is to demoralize the Republican party in Congress and force upon the country various inflationary measures and an unbalanced budget. When economic chaos results, the attempt will be made to bring about a system of state-owned and state-controlled industry and to establish the totalitarian concept of a "rubber stamp" Congress subservient to White House dictation.

Those are the underlying objectives of the spectacular struggle by which, under the guise of the McCarthy issue, the radicals and the confiscationists hope to gain control of the government of the United States in all its branches.

Each week the Arizona Daily Star publishes a column headed "Trailside Topics" under the by-line of "George L. Mountainlion, Research Associate in Human Behavior." The column consists of chatty observations on museum activities.

Eden, Butler Indulge in Rumor Game

By Alec De Montmorency

Partisans of Foreign Secretary Eden and Chancellor of the Exchequer Butler are waging a war of rumors for the eventual succession to Sir Winston Churchill at the head of the British government.

This latest development in the rivalry between the veteran conservative foreign affairs specialist and the young Tory financial wizard is reported in a dispatch from London to the Tribune de Geneve, leading Swiss daily.

To the clamor of Eden's backers for Churchill's early retirement the supporters of Butler answer by a flurry of reports that Eden does not have the necessary stamina to take in hand the direction of the government at this critical juncture.

THE CHANCELLOR of the exchequer has no open, personal part in this campaign and has gone out of his way to recognize publicly Eden's seniority. Nevertheless, Butler dominates British internal policies through his control of the purse strings, and his bold fiscal policies are considered largely responsible for the amazing recovery of British industry, commerce and finance in the two and a half years of his tenure.

His supporters therefore claim that he and not Eden would make the better prime minister.

The Swiss correspondent says that both the partisans and the adversaries of the chancellor of the exchequer are tensely awaiting the new budget which Butler will introduce to the Commons early next month.

They especially want to know whether he will be able to protect British economy from the incipient world recession.

Until now British employment and trade continue at record level in spite of the slackening of economic activity in Europe and the United States.

THE "EXPANSION" budget which Butler, with remarkable foresight, introduced last spring is credited with a major role in bringing about this "miracle."

A key man in the contest is the Marquess of Salisbury, lord president of the council and fourth member of Churchill's "inner cabinet" which is responsible for the major policy decisions of the Tory administration. Eden and Butler are the others in this group, whose members are also referred to as "senior cabinet ministers."

Salisbury has just made a significant move in connection with the question of premiership: A few days ago he quit — in Eden's favor — his influential post as chairman of the conservative and unionist associations in order to devote himself more fully to his task of helping Churchill with his work as prime minister.

SALISBURY'S VIEW is known to be that for reasons of national prestige, Churchill must be kept at the head of the government, even if he can't carry the job of premier alone, since no one could match his world standing and especially his close friendship with President Eisenhower.

The powerful group of newspapers controlled by Lord Beaverbrook; the right-wing Tories, and a great number of liberals and even laborites also adhere to that opinion.

This position of Salisbury apparently is the indirect cause of the current rumor campaign among the conservative back-benchers to "retire" Churchill.

That campaign would simply mean that Eden has already tried and failed to have the inner cabinet advise Sir Winston to quit, and that his supporters are therefore carrying his battle to the rank and file with Butler's backers striving to counter the campaign, and with both contenders assuming airs of Olympian detachment from the dispute

Spring Doldrums

By TRUMAN TWILL

The conversation turned to the doldrums, and this person who knows a little about everything said the doldrums are nothing to worry about when you get into them, especially in springtime.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men . . ."

That is the idea. There is a tide that flows, and there is a tide that ebbs. When it's ebbing, the doldrums grab you by the ankles and start to pull you under.

Everything that men and women do is influenced to some extent by this little-understood impression of being pulled under, according to our informant. No one really understands what it is, but no one doubts that its consequences are tremendous.

It makes human beings sad and it makes them glad when it lets up. It enables them to undertake projects which seem to be impossible, and it also causes them to choke up over trifles which they would shrug off as of no consequence if they were in a better mood.

There is no set time for the doldrums, which may affect different people at different times and in different ways. Our informant says they have a tendency to exert their strongest influence in the spring and fall.

They contribute to the massive sadness which overtakes us in the "melancholy days" of autumn when one sniff of wood smoke can cause an eruption of bitter tears. Not so much has been said about the "sweet, sad days" of early springtime when the sights, sounds and smells of accelerating life make millions of us want to wander into the dusk and get lost permanently.

Our informant — who is not a psychiatrist, by the way — says this is nothing to be concerned about. It goes on all the time. It goes with being part of the animal kingdom. It is just as commonplace and just as mysterious as the thing that cause a dog to hide under the porch when a storm is coming.

It's in the same category as the thing that causes red-birds to start hollering from the highest perch they can find when it's time to holler in the spring. It causes all animals to do what nature intended they should do, and men are just in the elite division of the animal kingdom.

Or to put it another way, it never was nature's plan for her children to behave like little Pollyannas all the time. There is a time to be morose and sour, and there is a time to be frisky and sweet.

A hundred different things determine the mood of a human being, from the state of his digestion to the state of his finances. But one of the standard influences —according to this person who knows a little about everything— is something that hits most of us with special impact in the spring and fall.

We go into seasonal doldrums. We bog down in the "melancholy days — the saddest of the year." We look upon the good earth and find it not so glod.

Our eye becomes jaundiced, and our spirits droop. We think dark thoughts and huddle morbidly in the dark corners of our deepest misgivings about the state of a world which suddenly seems to be the sum total of all the imperfections of the miserable, slimy . . .

If the mood hits upon you, keep a stiff upper denture. It will pass. You will look out the window some morning and see a bluebird. Everything will be all right again. The tide in the affairs of men will be flowing in your favor again.

Birds of a Feather

By MARK DANA

Since cave man days, hunters have known that by imitating mating calls of furred and feathered game they can entice to their doom wild creatures otherwise wary of men, as they should be. The reverse process has taken a long time to percolate, but some scientists at State College in Pennsylvania have now devised a method for scaring starlings away from buildings, and even from whole towns.

They simply caught a starling, recorded its frightened chirp on a tape recorder, amplified this sound of distress to some 120 decibels (which is a lot of decibels in the bird world), and played the message of distress near a flock of the unwanted birds. They vacated one building in terror; pursued by the tape, they finally left town for a more hospitable community, and the college is happy over the mass expulsion.

The technical name of the starling is Sturnus Vulgaris, and several thousand of them roosting and cavorting high up on a public building can become quite vulgar indeed. Nobody writes poems about starlings, as they do about robins and wrens and larks, but let some realistic building custodian start annihilating them with a BB gun or mustard gas and bird-lovers reach for his scalp.

Scaring the daylights out of them with a giant-sized starling yelp for help may be deceitful and quite inhospitable, but as editorials love to state unctuously, the idea merits consideration, or is a step in the right direction.

Like him or not, you've got to admit it takes somebody like Joe McCarthy to make an ex-Pfc feel sorry for a general.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

All Done by Mirrors

(The New York State legislature on the same day that it passed a bill for a code of ethics for legislators killed a bill to protect the public through compulsory auto liability insurance. Many other states are having trouble getting compulsory insurance through curious legislative proceedings."—News item)

"Oh ethics they are wonderful,"
The legislators said . . .
(The while they crossed the public up
And jumped upon its head;
"A code of ethics we must pass,"
They cried in manner bold. . .
(Then knuckled to the lobbyists
And did as they were told.)

II

"We must be extra ethical,"
They said with lofty stares. . .
(Then watched a driver hit a man
And blithely say, "Who cares?")
"High moral standards must be ours—
We're for a code that sticks."
They said, but chuckled up their sleeves
And played low politics.

III

"Fair play must ever be our aim,"
They cried, "Let honor rule!" . . .
(Then huddled in the shadows and Went in for dirty pool)
"Oh, ethics, we adore you so!"
They crooned . . Then cried, "Yoo hoo!"
To every crazy autoist
Who mows down me (and you).

IV

"Three cheers for ethics! Louder, boys!"
They cried; then ganged as one
To help the irresponsible
Hot-rod guy have his fun!
"We must be ethically right,"
They shouted sweetly, but
Flashed green lights for the motorist
Who kills and sneers, "SO WHAT!"

Russia and Red China have reserved 320 rooms for the Geneva convention, as against less then 100 for our side. . . . Well, our side is so sure it will have to stay awake day and night to avoid trouble that no extensive sleeping accommodations will be required.

Four members of a family were shot over a TV show the other night. . . . Those video comedians put everybody in an ugly mood, it seems.

Housewives and civilians are being put on duty as traffic police in New York and other cities . . . Great, and if they could be used for checking parking meters also, the country could get its police back on the job of preserving order and preventing crime.

A McCarthy supporter writes in to remark, "Why did they go to the Bar Association for help in that McCarthy, Stevens case; they should have sought somebody from the American Dentists Association."

"My vote against the N.Y. auto liability insurance law was predicated on political revenge. My personal conviction is that the bill was not in the best interests of the public" —Senator Wicks. (Ya mean liability insurance is not in the interest of a woman left a penniless widow through the killing of her husband by a Hit-and-Sneer driver!)

Dick Haymes has been ordered deported by the U.S. Immigration Department. . . . This guarantees him a lifelong residence in the United States, judging by precedent.

There has been a change in basketball rules. . . . It is now legal if the officials permit their whistles to be interrupted by the game itself.

Pan American will sell airplane tickets on the installment plan, but somehow the very word "down" in the term "down payments" makes us nervous. . . . Join the time payments and see the world! But will the airplane company give us any allowance on a trade-in of a 1953 for a 1954 flight?

Couple Wed Fifty Years

THE GOLDEN WEDDING of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Vance of near Marion, who were married April 1, 1904, at Vinton in Gallia County, will be celebrated Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snyder of 305 N State St. in Marion. A family dinner will be held at noon, and there will be open house from 2 p.m. until 5.

Residing in the Marion community the last 25 years, the couple came here from southeastern Ohio Mr. Vance has been employed by the Pure Oil Co. during most of that time. His parents were Mr and Mrs. Thomas Vance and the bride of 50 years ago is the former Miss Margaret Claire McGhee, daughter of James and Mary McGhee of Gallia County. Their marriage ceremony was read at the home of Rev. Harvey Denny in Vinton. Mrs Vance was 71 last October, and Mr. Vance will be 73 April 16.

Their five living children are Cline Vance and Mrs Robin Snyder, both of Marion, Claire Vance of Cardington, Mrs. Cora Evans of Columbus, and Lawrence Vance of Prospect. Three children deceased were Terley L. Vance, Mrs. O. D. Freeman, and Glen Vance. There are 13 grandchildren, one grandchild deceased, and four great-grandchildren.

Film Strip Reviews Progress Of City Schools in Last Decade

"The Dynamic 'Decade,'" a sound-slide film reviewing progress in the Marion public school system in the past 10 years, will be available for showing in April, Superintendent of Schools L. L. Dickey said today.

The film will have its first showing at a faculty meeting. Then it will be available to Marion clubs and organizations, Dickey said.

60 Photographs

More than 60 photographs make up the film which takes about 25 minutes to show. Significant developments in the school program during the last 10 years are reviewed in full-color still pictures and recorded narration.

Dickey said the film has three objectives: 1. To serve as a progress report to the community. 2. To present a view of the school program. 3. To show ways in which schools provide practical preparation for pupils in all phases of life.

Association Project

The film is a project of the public relations committee, composed of school teachers. Emphasis of the film is more on school program than physical facilities.

Dickey said as far as he knows, Marion is the first city to present this type of comunity report.

"We and the public at large normally are concerned only with fragments of the total school program at any one time," he said "This film seeks to present a concise summary of our over-all program."

BLAMES HORSE FOR CRASH

FREMONT, Ohio —Fred Pfeiffer's horse ran onto a road and smacked into an automobile, causing damage and personal injuries to the car owner, according to a suit for $1,195 filed yesterday in Common Pleas Court by Martin Artbauer of nearby Greensprings.

Most greenhouses where commercial orchids are grown must be kept very warm, but for some species, the houses must be refrigerated.

Women in Church District Will Hear India Missionary

Mrs Theodore M. Moore, Presbyterian missionary on furlough from India, will be the Marion Presbyterial speaker Thursday next week at the Presbyterian Church in Delaware. Delegations from about 30 churches in the Presbyterial organization, including three churches in Marion, will attend. Officers will meet at 9:15 a.m and morning session will begin at 10. Departmental secretaries will assemble at 1 p.m. and the afternoon session will be at 1:30

Stationed at Mainpuri, India, Mrs. Moore and her husband are engaged in rural church work in more than 200 villages in the district in co-operation with national pastors. Their work includes conducting of conferences and training schools, Bible classes, homemaking and personal hygiene classes, consultation on problems of farm work and much time spent in instructing the native co-workers in ways to help their own people. The rural evangelistic work demands camping out for weeks at a time in the villages, and the Moores keep a trailer equipped with audio-visual aids as the most effective way of reaching the rural people with their program Mrs Moore, originally from Columbus, is a graduate of Ohio State University and has done special study at Wooster College, a Presbyterian school. While on furlough the ooles are making their home in Ithaca, N. Y., and are taking courses at Cornell University.

Job Situation Leveling Off, Report Shows

BUC Claims Fall Off Nearly 1,000; State Total Hits 115,972

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The total of Ohioans out of work seven days or more dropped by nearly 1,000 during the week which ended last Saturday, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

But, in the same week, nearly 1,000 more Ohioans lost their jobs than in the previous week to join the ranks of the newly unemployed.

These two developments pointed up a leveling-off in employment which began to become apparent about two weeks ago.

As of last Saturday, 115,972 Ohioans had been unemployed one week or more. The figure as of the previous Saturday was 116,828.

During the week which ended Saturday, 15,470 Ohio workers were laid off or fired. Some 14,545 became newly unemployed in the week which ended March 20.

Most important employment areas of the state showed small plus or minus signs on their job less rolls.

Some improvement was noted in two of the tenderest employment spots in Ohio—Canton and Toledo.

The total of unemployed for a week or more dropped by 989 in the Canton area. This resulted from the upswing of employment at Alliance drop of 989 from the previous week.

Canton showed some increase in jobs, but a drop at Massillon exactly canceled it out. The Stark County gains may be temporary, however. Some 2,024 became newly unemployed there last week; only 862 lost their jobs in the three-city area in the week which ended March 20. Total unemployment in the three-city area last Saturday stood at 6,807 against 7,796 the previous Saturday.

In Toledo, total unemployment dropped by 218—from 10,093 to 9,875. The newly unemployed last week numbered 865 compared with 862 the previous week.

Eggplant Is Good Baked With Cheese

It's not always necessary to use fish in Lenten meals. Try combining cheese with a vegetable in a casserole.

Eggplant, available all year, is healthful and appetizing and just the vegetable to use when preparing one of the meatless meals.

For the tomato sauce, use:
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 6-oz. can tomato paste
- 1½ cups water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper

Saute onion in butter until transparent. Add tomato paste, water, salt and pepper, and simmer for 5 minutes. Remove from heat.

Then use:
- 1 medium sized eggplant, washed and peeled
- 1 egg, beaten
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter
- Fine bread or cracker crumbs
- 1½ cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese.

Cut peeled eggplant into slices about ½ inch thick. Mix eggs, milk and salt. Dip slices of eggplant into egg mixture, then into fine bread or cracker crumbs. Saute in butter until golden brown. Arrange alternate layers of eggplant, cheese, and tomato sauce in a 1½ quart casserole. Top with cheese, bake at 350 degrees for 20-30 minutes.

Professor Proves Arctic Regions Have Plant Life

STANFORD, Calif. (UP) — Dr. William C. Steere, professor of botany at Stanford University recently returned from the Arctic Circle with proof that a distinct lower plant life grows in that icy waste.

Before Steere's trip, the question of whether any kind of plant life could exist in the Arctic Circle had often been debated in botanical circles.

Steere collected proof of plant life in the Arctic Circle during two trips around the tip of Point Barrow.

Steere said the so-called Arctic wastes are not wastes at all but more like prairies with grasses a foot high. He said he saw occasional willow trees 10 feet high. Caribou, moose and goats manage to paw away enough snow to subsist on the sparse vegetation.

HAIR-RAISING STORY

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. (UP) — Clifford Brattain had his hair cut by the same barber and at the same place where he sat 50 years ago getting a trim for his wedding. The anniversary haircut was to prepare Brattain for his golden wedding date.

SPUD EXHIBIT

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Levio Bessoni brought two large potatoes, complete with budding sprouts, to the office of the public works commissioner to back up a charge that he can't keep potatoes in his basement. He said this was the fault of the department because a defective sewer or a brook near his home keeps his cellar damp.
